Votes Will Remain On Side of Truth; Trusting Experts

Another monument to the fact that the United States is not willing to be governed by experts, is President Coolidge's comment on the futile report of his farm commission.

It is doubtful if the unwillingness is on the part of the people. Rather, it is a monument to the low estimate of the intelligence of their constituents held by most congressmen. If we had some way to bring the judgment of the competent face to face with the carping of critics, the chances are that the jury of public opinion would find for the expert. One of the president's commission is to be the next secretary of agriculture. A congressional committee can pigeon-hole the commission's report, but opponents in congress would have to make a real showing to defeat the same proposals if responsibly presented, on the floor of congress, by the secretary. And congressmen who now think that they can gain more votes by offering their constituents a plausibly painted stone than by giving them real bread, might find that after a real presentation of the truth, the votes would be on its side.

It is true that suspicion of the expert has always been a characteristic American fault. We trust mechanical experts. If we want an electrical plant, we get an expert to design it. Some of us trust medical experts; but the others regard us as one sect and themselves as another; and insist that science and anti-science are dogmas to equal right. Business is only gradually and hesitatingly learning to trust experts. Government, which needs them most of all, actively distrusts them. Which means that government is still the most medieval of our mental processes.

THE Chicago Tribune, which originally supported the direct primary, now "regretfully" advocates its repeal, and limitation to the few most important offices, on the ground that it is a failure as to the multitude of minor offices. The people cannot vote on these offices intelligently, at either the primary or the election. Therefore, argues the Tribune, we should elect the few most important offices by the direct primary, and the rest by the legislature. This is a logical conclusion, but it is not a logical conclusion that they shall cease to vote on them at either. There is no reason why these minor administrative offices should not be elected by the people. In the National government, nationally, we elect the president and congress, and nobody else. In the states, we should likewise elect the governor and legislature, and nobody else. Similarly, in the local government, we should elect the mayor and council, and nobody else. The Tribune's scheme is really a proposal to make these offices appointive, but to give the appointing power to irresponsible party organizations, instead of to the responsible governor.

If they are to be appointive at all, the governor should do the appointing. If they are to be elective, they should remain so in the primary as well as the election. WE ARE moving at dizzy speed. Perhaps five thousand people heard Wilson's inaugural address, Harding, by using an amplifier, was heard by 125,000. Now Coolidge, over the radio, will be heard by 25,000,000. That is a gain of five hundred thousand per cent in eight years.

The next thing may be to broadcast the debates of congress. Then watch for revolution! What is now mercifully buried in the congressional record will be spread to the four winds, for all to hear. Either congress will reform, or the people will rise in their might to reform it. The one place where guff doesn't go is over the radio.

Robber's Body Is Found Near Safe He Tried to Blow

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 27.—The burned body of a yegsman in front of a safe which it is thought he was trying to open was found here early today following a terrific explosion and fire. The man was burned and mutilated beyond recognition. An overcharge of nitroglycerine was given as the cause of the explosion. About $2,000 was missing from the safe and the damage to the building was estimated at $500. Police believe the yegsman had an accomplice who escaped with the loot after the blast. The missing money and jewelry from the safe could not otherwise be accounted for.

Committee Plans to Call Chinese Doctors to Tell Extortion Allegations

DECLARE INQUISITORS WILL NOT 'WHITEWASH'

Tangle of Charges Is to Be Unravled By Members of Inquiry Board

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 27.—Authority to summon witnesses and an allotment of funds with which to carry on its investigation will be asked of the legislative assembly today by the committee appointed to probe the attempted extortion charges which have involved two members of the legislature and two attaches.

Members of the Chinese Protective association, as well as other Chinese who have been mentioned in connection with the alleged extortion plot, will be the first witnesses called, the committee plans. Senator Edgar Hurley and Assemblyman Edward Smith of Oakland will be asked to explain their connection with the affair, as will Arthur Ohnitus, chief clerk of the assembly, Charles Wilkinson, sergeant at arms of the assembly, and William Brackett, a former assemblyman from Oakland.

No "Whitewash," Is Claim. "Most confidence in the committee has been expressed by a number of the legislators who believe the investigation of the body will not turn out to be a mere "whitewash" event. To date no one has been heard to criticize the committee as a whole or any of its members.

Until Monday, however, the work of the committee is at a complete standstill because of a lack of authority to act.

Chinese physicians at Oakland complain an attempt was made to extort money from them in connection with Smith's anti-herb bill, while Smith counter charges that attempts were made to buy him off.

Seek Ruling On Budget. The opinion of Attorney General U. S. Webb as to whether the present biennial budget is properly compiled was awaited today with considerable interest by the legislators and state controller Ray Riley.

Riley is of the opinion that in listing "salaries and support" under a single heading and leaving the disposition of the appropriations to the discretion of the department heads the budget takes power from the legislature and places it with the heads of the state departments.

Young M'Adoo Arrested for Speeding

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—William Gibbs McAdoo, jr., son of the former secretary of the treasury, was arrested today following his arrest for alleged speeding.

Young McAdoo was detained at police headquarters on a speed charge until his wife bailed him out. He claimed it was "all a mistake," that his father instead of himself should have been named in the warrant.

"You don't want me, you want dad," he told officers when he was arrested.

PRESIDENT OF GERMANY AT DEATH'S DOOR

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—After several hours of gradual improvement, President Friedrich Ebert suffered a relapse early this afternoon and a bulletin issued at 2:30 p. m. described his condition as grave.

Professor Bler, his personal physician, said the relapse was due to intestinal activity again being halted.

It had been a night of anxiety for thousands of Republicans throughout the Reich and news that the president had survived what physicians earlier had said would be a brought great relief.

Political leaders, who had been in hasty conference considering a program in event of the president's demise, joined in expressions of happiness. All classes of Republicans admit that the passing of the president, known as one of the sanest of German Republicans, would be a tremendous handicap to the position of the young republic at this time.

Woman's Body Is Found Over Cliffs

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Mystery surrounding the supposed suicide of Mrs. Bertha Briber of Oakland, whose body was found at the foot of cliffs beneath the Cliff House here a week ago, was being probed by police today to determine if the woman might have been murdered.

Despondency over a real estate deal in which she felt she had been defrauded was at first assigned as the reason for her suicide. Following the arrival of the woman's son, Frank Briber of Denver, Colo., an investigation was launched and her stomach ordered removed for analysis.

FIND MISSING GUNMAN, CLAIM; MANY WRITE BOOST LETTERS

DEATH PLOT DETAILS TO BE RELATED

Richard Hotaling Repeats Denials That He Hired Men to Kill Three

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Al Reels, alleged gunman, named with Louis Madison as the men to whom $3,300 was paid by Ralph P. King to murder Mrs. Frederick Hotaling, wife of a wealthy San Francisco clubman, has been found in Los Angeles and can be produced "at any time," Captain of Detectives Duncan Mahtson announced today. King and Madison are in jail here.

Reels will not be arrested now but probably will be produced here Monday when a special session of the grand jury convenes to hear details of two alleged plots to kill three members of the family of the late A. P. Dotaling, millionaire brewer.

One plot was revealed by King, who confessed that he had been hired to find gunmen to kill Mrs. Hotaling. He charged Richard Hotaling, son of the late brewer, with inspiring the plot and furnishing the money.

King's confession gave as Hotaling's reason for wishing to get rid of his sister-in-law the excuse that she had "caused all the trouble in our family, had threatened to kill me, and had hired a man to beat me up." The family trouble has been litigation over the Hotaling estate.

The new postal bill, passed finally last yesterday, would increase postal salaries, effective January 1, a total of $68,000,000 annually, and postal rates, effective April 15, a total of $59,000,000 annually.

East Shivers As Mercury Plunges Down

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Relief from the near zero and sub zero cold now centering in this entire forecast district may be expected during the next 36 hours, the weather bureau announced today.

Slightly higher temperatures are expected in the eastern section of the district today.

At Duluth, Minn., it is 22 below.

MAIL DRIVE WILL COVER WIDE FIELD

Letters In Anti-Wail Move Are Addressed to Points All Over Continent

COLLECTIONS of mail deposited in the Orange-colored barrels placed at convenient points about the city indicated that thousands of good-will letters will be mailed at midnight of March 4 by the Santa Ana Advertising club to people living in eastern and middle west states.

Some of the letters will find their way to the New England states, others will go to the middle west, and a portion of the collection is consigned to the northwest and points in Canada.

Some of these messages of friendship and good broadcast industrial facts, others tell how Santa Ana is geographically located to become a busy city of progress; still others inform people in the east that Santa Ana is soon to be classed with Riverside, Coronado, Santa Barbara, Pasadena and Glendale as a center of fine homes.

"Don't adopt the steam pressure, highpowered, eat-'em-alive-gotter style in wording your letter but write it in your own natural style," is the advice given the letter writers by the committee in charge of the campaign. "Tell your story in a friendly, chatty way, and don't lose sight of the personal touch. Don't make it a business circular letter."

Make an effort to embody information in your letter, and make it interesting and entertaining—add some humor to it and cite some funny instances that have come to your observation.

Refloat Liner Aground at Queenstown

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The Canadian Pacific liner Mont Laurier, which ran aground at the entrance to Queenstown harbor, was refloated and at 3 p. m. was anchored in the inner harbor with tugs standing by. The vessel apparently was not damaged extensively.

The Mont Laurier, formerly the Empress of India and the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm is a three deck vessel of 17,282 tons, one of the largest boats plying between Canada and Liverpool. It was built in 1908.

HOG PRICES IN BIG JUMP, SET NEW RECORDS

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Broad demands raised the hog market 10 to 15 cents at the local yards today, thus establishing a new record of $12.40 for best hogs, the highest price since November, 1920.

50 DETECTIVES TO RESUME OLD BEATS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—Fifty plain clothes officers planned to return to ordinary police beats today following the latest shake-up in Los Angeles' police department.

The men, who have been enjoying jobs as acting lieutenant detectives, will be sent back to former patrolmen's posts on March 1 on orders of the police commission.

The commission ruled that detectives hereafter must be selected from the qualified civil service lists.

Retired Admiral of Atlantic Fleet Says Aviators Should Be 'Sailors'

HITS AIR SERVICE UNIFICATION PLAN

Declares Battle Fleet Could Be Put Out of Commission by Aerial Bombing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Battleships are obsolete, Admiral William S. Sims, noted naval authority and retired commander of the World War Atlantic fleet, told the house aircraft committee today. Airplane carriers have "replaced" the battleships as modern surface craft, Sims said.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—An enemy fleet attacking the Panama canal could be blown up by an adequate force of defending airplanes, Rear Admiral William S. Sims, retired commander of the American Atlantic fleet during the World War, told the House aircraft investigating committee today.

Agreeing with Brig. Gen. Mitchell that the United States air forces should be increased, Sims said it was necessary that the flyers operate in time of war with the navy and be trained especially for that purpose.

Opposes Mitchell's Plan. Thus, he came out flat footedly for the first time against Mitchell's plan for a unification of army, navy and mail air services of the government.

"Airplanes will play a predominant part in the next war," Sims declared. "If we develop aviation and submarines it will render it entirely impossible for an enemy to send a force across the ocean to inflict their policies on us."

"If we have an air force that will operate in time of war with the navy, it must be manned by expert naval officers. The men who operate planes with the navy in war time must be well trained in nautical work and must be experts in that line."

Urges Planes for Canal. Urging a large force of planes for the canal zones, Sims said an "adequate force" will insure it from air attack, and also blow up an approaching enemy fleet.

Sims read a statement made in July, 1923, in which he said aircraft "will hold the key to power in the next war."

"The outstanding air weapon today is the airplane," Sims' statement said.

"When two fleets meet at sea the one with the largest air force will triumph, as it can destroy the other's air force and then board the ships at will."

Sims said that any anti-aircraft squad which hits an airplane "considers it good luck."

AROUND THE COURTHOUSE

Brief News of Courts and County Officers

Grant Interlocutory Decree.
An interlocutory decree of divorce was granted today by Superior Judge F. C. Drumm to Mrs. Mary E. Brown, who sued James D. Brown, of Huntington Beach, on grounds of cruelty.

The case had been continued several times since it first came up for hearing some months ago, the court desiring further evidence to support the charges. The decree was finally granted today.

Attorneys James L. Hansen, Huntington Beach, represented Mrs. Brown in the proceedings.

Files Suit to Quiet Title.
Mr. and Mrs. August W. Dickoff, of Huntington Beach, today had filed suit in the superior court to quiet title to property in that vicinity. Sarah B. Groves, administratrix of the Anna M. Sweetingham estate, was named defendant in the suit.

Ask Judgment On Note.
Judgment for $600, alleged to be due on a promissory note, was asked today in a superior court action filed by E. A. Beaudette against P. H. Osborne, and E. W. Sweet of Huntington Beach. Attorney Clyde C. Downing represents the plaintiff.

Plasterer Given Probation.
Roy Carter, young plasterer from Orange, was granted probation today by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams in connection with a charge of writing a worthless check, after friends from the youth's old home in Oklahoma had nearly smothered the court with barrage of telegrams on behalf of the defendant.

Negro Is Found Guilty.
Henry Scovel, lanky colored man from Fullerton, tried to explain the presence of a stolen watch in his pocket, by telling a superior court jury that he believed officers had "framed" him.

But the jury didn't think so and found Scovel guilty of burglary. Today he was awaiting sentence to be pronounced Saturday at 9:30 a. m. by Superior Judge Z. B. West.

Scovel was tried yesterday for burglary of the John Clark home at Fullerton.

Sentence Draughtsman.
Refused probation, W. G. Kays, local draughtsman, who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was today fined $200 by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams.

'TRUANT' SENATORS RETURN TO CAPITAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 27.—The truant Hoosier state Democratic senators came home today. Cold and shivering, they piled out of the bus which brought them back from their voluntary exile in Dayton, Ohio, at 1:15 a. m.

Senator Walter Chambers of New Castle, spokesman for the bolting solons, announced that a satisfactory agreement had been reached with Republican leaders on the Penrod Gerrymandering bill and "other disputed points."

The Democrats will return to their seats in the senate for today's session.

The treaty of peace under which the Democrats agreed to come back to Indiana was understood to include two points:

1.—The Penrod Gerrymandering bill will not be pressed by Republican leaders during the remainder of the session.

2.—The strikers will be granted a general amnesty and no attempt will be made to fine them for willfully breaking a quorum and obstructing proceedings in the senate.

Negotiations to end the strike were opened early Thursday evening by Lieutenant Governor Van Orman and James J. Nejd, Republican floor leader in the senate, after a conversation with Governor Jackson.

The Relation of Hose to Shoes

why we go east to buy hose

HOSIERY style has become a specialized study in itself. It is so closely associated with shoe style that shoe stores have found it essential to establish working relations with hosiery manufacturers to see that style and color progress with the ever-changing shoe styles.

We go East twice a year at least on buying and study trips. Our itinerary includes hosiery as well as shoe centers. We have made such a complete study of the relation of hose to shoes that today you are receiving equally as authentic and up-to-date service here on one as on the other.

Oklahoma Man Pleads Guilty In Check Case

Hubert Stevens today pleaded guilty in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court to a charge of issuing a worthless check, and then, having no attorney, admitted that he didn't know whether to ask for probation.

Noticing the defendant's uncertain attitude, the court inquired if it had been his purpose to ask for probation.

"I don't know about that probation business, judge," confessed Stevens, "I've never been in court before."

The court allowed the application to be filed and set the hearing for next Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Stevens was recently brought back from Durant, Oklahoma, where he had fled with a car purchased from a local dealer, and paid for with the worthless check for $500. The car was found in his possession when the Durant authorities arrested him, on receiving one of Sheriff Sam Jernigan's circulars spreading notice of the offense.

MEN'S WEAR NEWS

OF INTEREST TO MEN AND WOMEN WHO ARE INTERESTED IN A MAN'S APPEARANCE

W. A. Huff Co.

We're Not All "Perfect 36's"

A recent survey concerning sizes in men's clothing shows that about 38 per cent of us require "irregular" sizes in suits—such as stouts, medium stouts, slims, shorts, short stouts, and tall stouts.

Don't let the idea that you are "hard to fit" worry you. There are plenty of others who used to feel the same way who have found out that W. A. Huff Co. can fit them, and please them. Suit prices start at thirty dollars.

Since men began to dress more cheerfully, they've taken a great liking to colorful ties. With suits more or less subdued a tie with lots of color surely does add to a man's appearance.

The stripes with the vivid colors make the prettiest Spring ties we've shown in a long time.

The man who has a reputation for being a style leader is simply one who sees the advantage of choosing his clothes right at the very start of the season.

Antwerp Blue promises to be one of our best sellers in Spring suits. The blue is a smart new shade; a combination of old blue with a lighter thread. The style is a two-button English model with broad shoulders and snug hips. You'll like it.

The top coat is a Spring necessity even here in Sunny Southern California. A Knit-tee for thirty dollars is a dandy all-purpose coat in just the right weight.

We've a fine collection of new golf suits here. Some are the four-piece suits, with both long trousers and knickers.

New style in golf vests, golf hose, golf caps, golf shirts and neckwear, also.

Collar-attached flannel shirts are very smart, very popular. So are the collar-to-match shirts of percale or madras or silk.

You'll never gain a man's enmity by returning his smile. A smile is a lot like a flivver—it may look kinder foolish but it gets there just the same.

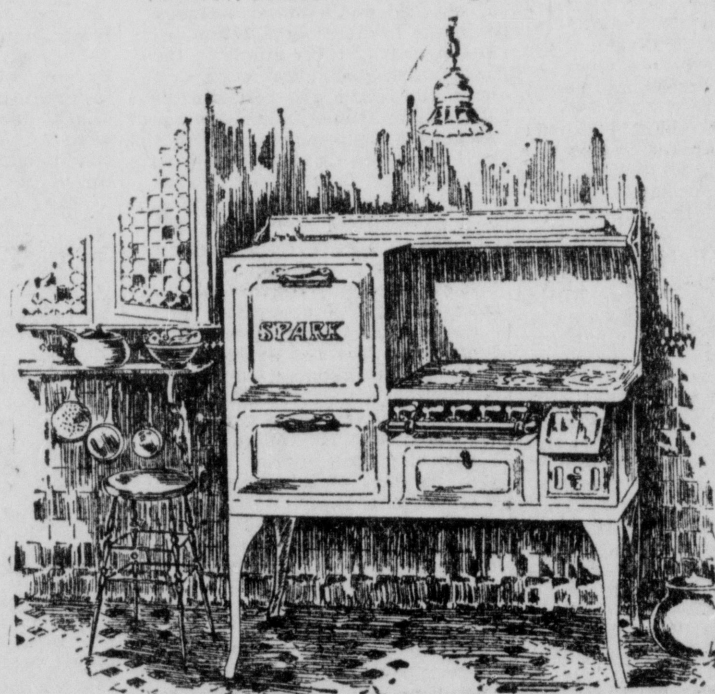

While we're showing a whole store full of newest Spring styles in men's clothes and furnishings—

We sail into the new season with the same tried and proven, four-point Code of Service that has been ours throughout all seasons—

Good quality; Fair prices; Style correctness; and efficient friendly service.

The Well-Dressed Man

By BEAUNASH

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

BOOTS FOR "ROUGHING IT"

There are two cardinal considerations which govern how every man should dress. These are occasion and occupation. Patent leather Oxfords are admirable in the ballroom, but laughable in the backwoods. Hob-nailed brogans are excellent for the golf course, but execrable for the course dinner. The banker or doctor may well wear a cutaway coat and striped trousers, because these reflect the dignity that dovetails with his calling. The surveyor or builder pursuing his daily work in a cutaway suit would provoke ridicule, instead of respect.

Style, as has often been pointed out here, is not a granite-jawed drillmaster who keeps us all goose-stepping to one stiff pace. True style is rooted in both common sense and a sense of things. It makes allowances as well as regulations. It permits a man to be comfortable, for unless he is comfortable he does not feel at his best, whether he be teeling off at the club or going to a tea dance.

The special Blucher-type of high boot, sketched here, is one for which many men may find no particular service, because it is outside the range of their occupations. On the other hand, or rather foot, such a trim, all-enveloping, water-proof boot is no end useful to those who are compelled to be out in the open in all sorts of weather—architects, surveyors, builders, inspectors, appraisers, real estate men and many more. They want footwear that is warm, durable, protective and suitable to all conditions of shine and storm. Besides, such a boot is worn by hunters and other sportsmen for "roughing it" in out-of-the-way places where ordinary shoes would only be a hindrance.

This boot is made of cowhide, grained leather or brown calf-skin with sturdy oak-tanned soles. The uppers are treated with a combination of wax and oil that renders the leather practically, if not entirely, water-tight. There are laces up the front and down the sides and pull-straps at the top. Note how the boot, unlike the old-fashioned sort, is shared to the calf and has a certain smart style which is a feature in footwear for costed rugged usage. Be good enough to have in mind again that occasion and occupation should determine the adoption of any style.

Last Words

"Sure, this stuff's all right; I got it from a fellow who was recommended."

"I do"—in response to the minister's question.

"That truck can't bluff me; I've got the right of way, and I'll keep it."

"Hell, Mary! I've brought company home to dinner."

"Shucks, this boat won't tip over."

"Blow your horn! You can't make me hurry."

"This gun isn't loaded."

"Why should I dim by headlights?"

"I'll take a chance. I'll try anything once."

"Pardon me, partner; I didn't realize that it was your ace."

To the man at the head of the line for world's series tickets:

"Get two for me, brother; I can't wait 'til all these guys take their turn."

"I'll tell you whether there's gas in the tank as soon as I can strike this match."

"Don't try to tell me anything about fermentation. I know how to brew this stuff safely."

"I've got 4-wheel brakes. I can stop in time."

"That sign's crazy. This water is deep enough here to dive in."

"Watch me step on it. I'll beat that train."

"I know my rights. They can't arrest me for this."

"The marines have landed and have the situation well in hand."

"The police are busily engaged on several new clues and expect to arrest the murderer in a few hours."

"I'll do that tomorrow."

Expenses

Light is thrown on Americans' requirements and tastes by Business Bureau, International, which figures out the nation's expense account in per capita terms for a year.

For diamonds the American spends annually $2.58. He spends 22 cents for dentifrices and $1.50 on pickles. He puts out $4.15 for near beer and 6 cents for ink.

Three dollars is spent for ice cream and 90 cents for eggs. $3.75 for toilet soap and $1.10 for books; $27 for joy riding and $1.29 for the work of religion.

Five dollars go for jewelry and 15 cents for art works; 11 cents for health service and 65 cents for coffins; $10 for public schools and $1.85 for shirts; luxurious foods, $15, and 8 cents for salaries of professors.

Our daily plaint has been "Where does the money go?" Now we know.

Americans literally eat up their income. Ten years ago one-fifth of one's earnings was deemed sufficient for food. Today the figure has risen to 27 per cent—more than one-fourth.

Last year, says Dr. Paul H. Nyström, head of the Retail Research association, our total estimated income was 68 billion dollars. Almost half went to retail stores. More than 18 billions went for food, tobacco and soft drinks.

Phone Facts

An average of about 5,000,000 telephone calls are completed per day in New England by the companies of the Bell System.

Fifty-one per cent of the telephone wire mileage of South America is located in Argentina, which is served by ninety-seven different companies.

There are 140 miles of telephone wire in the new Equitable Life Insurance building in Des Moines, the largest building in the state of Iowa.

With a population of approximately 35,000 and an area of ninety-two square miles, Baltimore has more than 110,000 telephones in service, one telephone for every 7.4 inhabitants.

Half the world is half asleep
Can success in life be undermined by constipation? Indeed it can. The poisons of this disease tire you out, wear you down, make you listless and make you lose interest in things in general. Ambition is most often prompted by a thoroughly healthy body. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings permanent relief from constipation.

"Shoulders that droop and feet that drag"

THERE are men and women who seem to be eternally tired. They go about things in a listless sort of way. They try, but they can't seem to make the grade. Perhaps they do not realize that it is constipation which is sapping their energy.

There is a sure relief from this disease. It is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN goes completely through the system without changing its fiber. It sweeps the intestine clean, purifies it, absorbs and carries moisture through it, urges it to act exactly as nature intended. Unlike habit-forming pills and drugs, it is never necessary to increase the amount of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN which you first find effective.

Let Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regain your health and keep you feeling fit. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or your grocer returns the purchase price. Eat your two tablespoonfuls with milk or cream, sprinkle it over other cereals, cook it with hot cereals, put it in soups and try it in the recipes given on every package.

Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—for only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

MIDDLETON IS RECOMMENDED FOR MESA POST

Walter N. Middleton today had the recommendation of the Republican county central committee for appointment as postmaster of Costa Mesa, following a meeting of that association late yesterday at the courthouse.

Middleton's appointment, if made, will mean a 24-hour postal service for Costa Mesa, it is said. At present the postoffice is located in the hardware store of Charles W. TeWinkle, who is acting as postmaster. Middleton proposes, if appointed, to provide access to lock boxes day or night.

Middleton and Donald J. Dodge were the two eligibles whose names were before the central committee yesterday. Secretary Earl Abbey forwarded Middleton's recommendation to Congressman Phil Swing today.

The word infantry owes its origin to an Infanta, or Princess Royal of Spain. Once when a king of Spain was conducting a war against the Moors, his cavalry got badly beaten. Thereupon the Princess immediately raised a regiment of foot soldiers to go to their aid. Foot soldiers were ever after known in Spain as the Infanta's men, and from this we get our term "infantry."

NAB TALBERT MAN ON L. A. WARRANT

While in the courtroom here today, waiting to hear sentence passed upon his wife, who was convicted of a liquor charge, Clyde Ellis, of Talbert, was placed under arrest on a bench warrant issued from federal court, Los Angeles. He will be turned over to federal officers this afternoon or tomorrow, it was said, to face a liquor charge there.

Ellis was tried Tuesday in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court on a charge of selling liquor but the jury disagreed. His second trial was set for ay 4. His wife, Sadie Ellis, was tried on a similar charge in the same court Wednesday and was convicted. She was in court this morning to receive sentence, but the case was continued to 1:30 p. m. Ellis was with her when the Los Angeles warrant was served on him.

Dancing Is Favorite Amusement of Many Merry Groups

'Twould seem that dancing was in the very air last night, judging from the number of Santa Anas who gathered in different groups to enjoy that favorite diversion.

Up at the Masonic temple an unusually large crowd of Masons with their wives and sweethearts assembled for dancing and cards, in response to the invitation issued a short time ago by the entertainment committee of combined Masonic orders.

In the ball-room the dance committee, Mrs. Ada C. Walters and H. E. Carter, introduced a succession of entertaining numbers for which the Chapman orchestra rendered music. The dancing group was considerably augmented as the evening drew to a close by those who had devoted the earlier evening to cards for which tables were arranged in the chapter room.

Among them were four jubilant folk who had won attractive prizes for their luck in scoring. These were Mrs. W. E. Hennion, Josephine Tibbitt, Herbert E. Carter and J. K. Tibbitt.

Refreshments of the evening were served under the direction of a committee headed by Mrs.
Bowe.

Motoring to Anaheim where the Business and Professional Women's club of that city was sponsoring a dance at the Elks club, a delegation of members from the Santa Ana club joined in an evening which was highly successful from both a social and a financial standpoint.

Mrs. Helen Harden, president of the hostess club, greeted the guests assembling at the Elks club at 9 o'clock. Assisting her was a committee of members who aided in introductions until it scarcely needed the announcement that a cymbal dance was to serve as an introducing medium to get the crowd centralized and acquainted.

Special dance features by a group of talented young people added to the interest and the latter part of the evening was given a due carnival spirit by the assortment of whistles, balloons and unusually clever cups distributed.

Representing the Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club were Miss Martha Whitson, Miss Louise Kiser, Miss Gail Finley, Miss Nancy Marshall, Miss Peggy King, Miss Ruth Walker,
Mrs. Bee Mathews and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott. Several others from this city joined the group before the conclusion of the merry evening.

Down at the new home of the Santa Ana Country club all was gay indeed as the entertainment committee presented the first of a series of dances which will alternate with the card parties already launched.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Roller, resident hosts at the Country club, had arranged the evening which was delightfully informal. Virtually the entire membership was represented, and all were enthusiastic about the pleasant features of the party, which promised equally enjoyable features for events to come. The music was declared to be unusually full of life and served to make dancing most pleasant.
Feed fruit punch was an additional aid to merriment.

When Mr. and Mrs. Roller announced events for March, much interest was shown in the dancing party with which the date of Friday the thirteenth, will be celebrated. For guests will be asked to come in tacky costume to aid in maintaining the spirit of the day.

Santa Ana Guests Are Among Those Present At Anaheim Affair

Selections from various famous oratorios were featured during an interesting evening which musical folk of the community enjoyed recently with Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Taylor and Miss Constance Williams of Anaheim at the home of the latter.

Guests were drawn from the ranks of the vocal pupils of the Ellis Rhodes studio who have formed an informal oratorio society. In presenting the program
Wednesday night, Mrs. C. A. Mc-Cullah acted as accompanist for each singer.

Mrs. J. M. Hitchcock opened the musical by singing "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth" from Handel's "Messiah" followed by a two-part song, "He Shall Feed
His Flock" from the same oratorio, with Mrs. A. L. Knipe singing the soprano solo part and Miss Constance Williams singing the contralto solo.

Cecil Fross Willits popular contralto of this city sang a third "Messiah" solo, "He That Was Despised" and Monroe Sharpless gave "In Native Work" from Hayden's "Creation." "Angels Ever Bright and Fair" from "Theodora" (Handel) was the choice of Alice Grimschaw and the final song was
"It Is Enough" from "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, sung by Reginald Taylor.

After such a feast of sonorous song, the guests enjoyed a more frivolous period when rugs were rolled and dancing was introduced.
The dancing continued until a late hour, with but one break which came when Miss Williams and Miss Taylor served a delicious little supper of chicken salad, hot rolls, coffee, and chocolate eclairs.

Jonquills and hyacinths decked the home in honor of the event and Mr. Rhodes aided the hosts in greeting his pupil-friends. He also directed the program, announcing each number. Motoring over from this city for the event were Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Seales, Miss Alice Grimschaw, Mrs. Thomas Willits and Monroe Sharpless.

Sunday Plans For Camp Kearney Trip

In arranging for a Sunday trip to Camp Kearney where a score or more members of the American Legion auxiliary will motor to the camp for the day, Mrs. Eugene Robinson, president of the auxiliary, today asked that those who were sending potted plants to the boys and nurses there, would deliver them either to her home, 1502
Spurgeon street, or that of Mrs.
Clyde Whitney, 2344 Oakmont.

Those planning to go of Mrs. Alice are asked to get in touch with one of the two (Mrs. Robinson's telephone number is 2040-R and that of Mrs. Whitney is 2213-J). Owners of machines who have room for additional passengers are included among these.

It is the plan to take a picnic dinner, which will be eaten at Carlsbad. The party will keep together after starting from here at 9 o'clock a. m. After reaching Camp Kearney, all will join in holding a little party to honor 30 or more World War nurses there for treatment. Special birthday cakes will be taken for those who have had birthdays since the first of the year, and the pretty plants well as an entertaining program which will feature local artists, among them Harriet Owens Enderlie who will give readings.

Community Players To Meet at The Barn

Players' organization would allow anything to interfere with plans to attend the usual monthly meeting out at The Barn, always an event of the first Thursday night in the Something of interest always awaits them at the informal club-of friendliness and the ever-present sandwiches and coffee. Next Thursday night Miss Edith Cornell is presenting a little group of talented members in the one-act play, "Before the Dark" and the program promises such interest that a delegation from the Laguna Beach Community Players has announced an intention to be present.

Feminine members are reminded that sandwiches will be served—to take one or two extra ones. Coffee will be made in the convenient little kitchenette.

And just to make it ring more true,
I'm asking jolly folks like you."

read the hatchet and cherry-decorated invitations which Miss Olive Granger of 2417 Valencia street recently issued to a group of her young friends for a merry evening.

The promise of the invitation was fully carried out by the gayeties of the evening in which the patriotic motif was stressed by favors, appropriate games and decorations.

Dancing was a most enjoyable feature and was followed by refreshments of ice cream, Wash-punch and wafers, served buffet style with the mother of the young hostess, Mrs. Florence Granger, aiding her daughter in all pleasant details of the evening.

Young people gathered for the event were the Misses Doris Jones,
Ruth Owens, Clara Kate Owens,

MAN RESISTS HOLDUP AND IS SHOT IN ARM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—James M. Donahue, vegetable wagon driver, showed fight when a holdup man told him to "stick 'em up, mister." He knocked the would-be holdup man down and in return received a bullet through the upper part of his right arm.

In the excitement following the shooting, the holdup man escaped. The attack was reported by local police to have taken place at 716 Delaware avenue early last evening.

Donahue was returning home from his daily route. As he walked up the steps of his home, a man stepped in front of him and told him to put up his hands. Instead, Donahue struck the man. As the holdup man went over backward, the gun he was carrying, was discharged, the bullet lodging in Donahue's right arm just below the shoulder. The assailant was said to have been a Mexican. Police have a good description of the man. Donahue received treatment for his wound at the Emergency hospital, after neighbors had reported the incident to the police.

CROSS PUZZLES OF U. S. ORIGIN SWEEP LONDON

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The average Londoner is very studious these days.

In the buses, on the tramcars, in the underground trains, you see him bending over a paper, wrinkling his brow, an ably writing.

And everywhere you go the book shops and the news stands and the stationers are now displaying big and little dictionaries.

Word books of the vintage of 1840, which were deemed unsaleable, have been trotted out and marked as bargains.

Of course you have guessed what it is all about. London has a bad attack of "Crosspuzzledness." This curious disease took a long time to cross the ocean, but when it did, it came in its most virulent form and now everybody is doing it.

And the funny thing is these insular folk imagine the disease started here.

They don't know that America invented it, just as America made mah jongg popular, and just as America made everybody sing the sad state of the banana market and the fact that it was going to rain no more, no more.

Ambassador Kellogg, who is leaving the Court of St. James to become secretary of state in President Coolidge's cabinet, has never had the reputation of being a wit like Joseph Choate, one of his predecessors.

However, one of his retorts is so good that it is worth immortality in these columns.

When Kellogg settled here, he rented the beautiful old house of Lord Cromwell—home, furniture, pictures and all.

Now among the oil paintings by famous English masters there was one of King George III, whose blind obstinacy brought about our famous war for independence.

A distinguished Englishman, seeking to twist Kellogg, said:

"I am surprised to see in the home of the American ambassador the picture of King George."

"Not at all, my dear fellow," retorted Kellogg. "It is most appropriate. You forget that George is the man who gave Americans their country."

Speaking of ambassadors, a very prosperous yarn has floated down here from Spain.

Alex Moore, a real newspaper man, is American ambassador to the court of Madrid. Be it remembered that the Spanish court is the most ceremonious in all the world.

Every move, every step, every bit of clothing is regulated and prescribed. The Spanish royal family are treated in their own court like little gods.

Such a thing as a real human touch is practically unknown.

And then along comes this he-man Moore, with his little "homey" ways. Madrid is still gasping about it.

For our ambassador is reputed to have given the queen as a Christmas gift a (gulp)—a (pause)—a (stagger)—a hot water bottle!

"Beware of pickpockets in this lift."

You read the words in big letters. But it's merely a clever ad, because the smaller type informs you that if you are robbed, you will lose the two pence you intended investing in the Blank-Blah, the best funny paper in London.

And the next day you are confronted in the underground elevators by another:

"Stop joking in this lift."

If you take the trouble to read the fine print, you are informed that the place for all the best jokes is in the Blank-Blah.

Which shows that these Britons are adopting some of our striking advertising methods.

Cost This Man $30 Extra for Ignoring Slip

"Interest" on $20 runs high when the money is withheld from the Santa Ana justice's office. V. B. Snyder, Los Angeles man, learned late yesterday when he was brought back here to face a charge of reckless driving, for which he has been wanted in Orange county since last September. The "interest" amounted to $30, making a total of $50 assessed by Justice K. E. Morrison.

Snyder was arrested for going too fast at an intersection last September. He received his pink slip, but never reported for a hearing, it was said. The other day, W. W. Meyer, the arresting officer, went to Los Angeles and brought him back here.

"The fine would have been only $20 had Snyder brought in his pink slip at the time specified," stated Justice Morrison. "I added a little to let him know that these pink slips must not be ignored."

LEGION FORMS SERVICE CLUB IN SANTA ANA

To work hand in hand with other luncheon and service clubs in Santa Ana, for the betterment of the city and to boost it at every opportunity, announcement is made today of the formation of another service and luncheon club for the city. The name is the American Legion Service Club, and membership is confined to those who are members of the local post of the American Legion.

The new club will meet for luncheon each Monday.

The first meeting is scheduled for next Monday at the Pennant Cafe, on North Main street. Subsequently members of the American Legion auxiliary will serve the luncheons at the Legion home on North Birch street. It was announced by Dr. Farrage, chairman of the committee organizing the new club.

Fifty members of the local post have already joined the new service club, it was announced today, and with the big membership of the local post to draw from, it is thought by leaders of former soldiers here that the luncheon club will develop into the largest in the city within a short time.

"We want it plainly understood that this club is not a 'white collar' club, in any sense of the word. The legion's luncheon and service club is for the boys who belong to the post here and although we expect to work with other clubs such as the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs here in projects beneficial to the city, we want our members to know that regardless of how they are dressed when the time comes for the meeting, they are welcome. Overalls or dress suits, it's all the same to our club," Dr. Farrage stated.

JERNIGAN WILL GO TO SHERIFFS' MEET

To attend a meeting of the Sheriffs' Association of California, Sam Jernigan, Sheriff of Orange county, will leave here Sunday night for Sacramento. The meeting opens on Monday at 11 a. m. and continues for three days.

Discussion of bills scheduled to come up before the legislature will be one of the principal topics, it has been announced, and advice from Sacramento are to the effect that virtually all sheriffs in the state of California will be gathered for the meeting.

The state organization of sheriffs is cooperating with plans made by the California Peace Officers' association in upholding several bills scheduled to be presented soon and will doubtless go on record as approving the proposed amendment providing for a 12-year term for judges of the superior court; and amendment No. 19, which calls for an eight-year term for sheriffs and other county officers.

S. A. CHAMBER TO NAME FIVE AS DIRECTORS

A. L. Olinger, secretary, today announced a meeting of members of the chamber of commerce next Tuesday evening for the purpose of nominating five directors to be elected at the annual election for directors on March 17. The meeting will be held at the city council chambers at 7:30 o'clock.

"Nominations will be made from the floor and will be evidence that the chamber is being conducted along democratic lines," Olinger said. "Members who will not be in a position to attend the meeting are invited to send in nominations."

Five men are to be elected for three-year terms, succeeding C. D. Spicer, W. H. Spurgeon, O. H. Barr, A. B. Rouselle and H. A. Gardner, whose terms expire.

Receive Resignations

At the meeting of the board of directors yesterday the resignation of M. B. Wellington was regrettably accepted and recommended.

ation was made that lawyers of the city suggest his successor. Press of private business matters was assigned by Wellington as the reason for his resignation. The resignation of Freeman H. Bloodgood as chairman of the harbor committee also was accepted with regrets, Bloodgood advising that he tendered his resignation because of many other duties required his time.

J. W. Estes, chairman of the membership committee, reported progress in development of plans for the chamber's membership campaign in March and April. The slogan will be 1000 new members. Miss Ella Slocum has been secured to assist in the stenographic work incident to the campaign.

Approve Lease
The directors approved as drawn a lease by which the chamber will acquire right to erect a chamber home on the grounds of St. Ann's Inn.

New members were accepted as follows:

Exitable Life Insurance society, Thomas J. Hunter, district manager; Keystone Advertising Agency, F. Kutnewsky and Roy E. Miller, managers; W. L. Salisbury, realtor; Charles F. Carlson, plumbing and heating contractor; H. Madlener, builder; Charles D. Van Wyk, rancher; P. E. McCarter, rancher; Frank Hoffman, tailor; E. L. Bryant, soda fountain; Warren V. Smith, radio.

Murder Charge Against Doctor In North Dropped

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—A charge of murder filed against Dr. A. W. Morton, San Francisco physician in connection with the death of Miss Bertha Hg, a nurse, was dismissed late yesterday. Dr. Morton testified in his preliminary hearing on the charge that the woman had attempted to perform an illegal operation upon herself and that he had completed the operation in an unsuccessful attempt to save her life.

ROBBERIES IN SAN JOSE IRK POLICE FORCE

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 27.—Thousands of dollars in cash and bonds have been taken by a band of three yeggs operating in and around San Jose in the last five months. So far police have been unable to check their operation, or to obtain a clue to their identity.

Twenty-one safes in small factories and stores and postoffices of towns in this vicinity have been blown open and rifled. The men operate in an automobile, work fast and have accomplished as high as three robberies in one night, many of them miles apart.

Three more safes were robbed last night, presumably by the same band.

The branch of the San Jose postoffice at Burbank, a suburb, was the principal robbery last night, the men escaping with $200.

About 4 a. m. three men were seen at work in the postoffice, but residents were too frightened to notify the police. Earlier in the night the men obtained $60 from the safe of the Volkers Transfer company and $8 from the M. and F. Bakery here.

LOCAL GAS RATES

ARE NOT CHANGED

The increase of from 3 to 8 cents per 1000 cubic feet in the price of artificial gas authorized by the state railroad commission will not affect local consumers of the Southern Counties Gas company, according to J. C. Hayden, Orange county manager of that utility.

"This increase in gas rates," explained Hayden, "applies to all California communities and cities served by manufactured gas in the state. The increase in rates of artificial gas companies is based solely upon the price of fuel oil. Rates for artificial gas in California automatically increase with each rise in the price of fuel oil or decrease with a drop in the price of that product."

"The cities of Orange county are very fortunate in that our consumers here use straight natural gas supplied by our company. The rates charged here for natural gas are in no way affected by the present increases in the price of fuel oil. The Southern Counties Gas company, primarily a natural gas utility, obtains its natural gas directly from Southern California oil fields. We are connected with all of the substantial gas producing fields of Southern California and need worry neither about the supply of gas nor about the present increases in rates charged where artificial gas is served."

SCHOOL BILLS IN ASSEMBLY SET RECORD

Whatever history may say of the achievements of the 1924-25 session of the California state legislature, it will be given credit for having introduced plenty of school legislation. Well beyond the hundred mark is the number of bills introduced by senators and assemblymen, covering every conceivable phase of school activities, some providing for radical changes in fiscal policies and administrative affairs.

As a result of the generous number of bills introduced, local school boards, including outlying elementary districts, as well as the different P. T. A. organizations are facing the arduous task of wading through these bills should they desire to go on record for and against the measures.

Bills Are Listed
Here are some of the most important bills.

Senate bill 179—Amends 1610 of the political code by requiring pupils to secure consent of trustees of districts where pupils reside to attend other schools; establishes cafeterias.

Senate bill 194—Provides for annexation of high school districts to junior college districts in the same county.

Senate bill 240—Amends 1665 and 1666 of the political code by reducing the 27 subjects enumerated in the present 1665 to 12 compulsory, and 3 optional subjects to be selected by the board of education.

Senate bill 258—Provides for not less than half an hour each week for humane education; no vivisection to be practiced in grades below eight; teachers' colleges must have course in humane education; superintendents and California Teachers Association must include humane education in program; principal or teacher must include in monthly report statement of compliance with this act.

Senate bill 310—Provides for custody and disbursement of funds arising from activities not conducted at public expense.

Senate bill 311—Regulates incorporation of degenerative institutions of higher education other than state institutions and providing a commission therefor.

Principals Would Issue Permits
Senate bill 348—Amends part time act so that principles of high schools may issue vacation permits to pupils between 16 and 18.

Senate bill 351—Amends physical education act so as to permit pupils to be excused from participating without any reason except a written request from parent or guardian.

Senate bill 428—Amends Act 1610 by (1) removing full high school certification for teachers in elementary schools maintaining high school classes; (2) transferring the funds to the elementary school now received by the high school in such districts.

Senate bill 432—Prohibits issuance of building permits for manufacturing and commercial buildings within four blocks of any public school building; the maintenance of room or space for the congregation of students; the sale of tobacco, food or drink; exempts regular restaurants, penalty, misdemeanor.

Senate bill 475—Amends section 1608 by increasing the responsibility of governing boards in regard to street improvements.

Senate bill 536—Creating a commission to codify the school laws, appropriating $10,000; the commission to consist of superintendent of public instruction, president of state board of education; attorney general, a district attorney, and a county superintendent of schools—last two appointed by the governor.

Senate bill 543—Establishing the 24-hour school and providing machinery therefor.

Senate bill 637—Amends section 1616 so as to provide that kindergartens may be established only between May 10 and June 30, instead of between June 1 and August 1.

Senate bill 659—Provides for the formation of consolidated school districts. This is intended to give a larger unit of administration of elementary schools, co-terminous with the high school district.

Senate bill 762—Requires non-residents of California to pay the cost of educating their children in the schools of the state.

Assembly bill 12—Adds Armistice

Capital Letter

By HARRY B. HUNT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—For the first time in the country's history the oath of office is to be administered to a president by one of his predecessors.

This will be March 4, when President Coolidge is sworn into office by ex-President Taft.

Taft will be acting in his capacity as chief justice of the supreme court. He is the first ex-president to hold this position, and he held it when the present chief executive took his oath of office following President Harding's death.

But on that occasion the oath was administered by Calvin Coolidge's father, John Coolidge, in his old New England farmhouse.

When President Harding took the oath, at the preceding inauguration, it was administered by Chief Justice White.

Coolidge's inauguration may not be the "big splash" of former years, but indications are it will draw just as big a crowd.

Washington railroad offices report that interest in the event is nationwide, that the demand for tickets is such that special reduced rates are to be in effect.

Railroads in the Trunk Line association are selling round-trip tickets for one and a half times the price of a one-way fare.

The other railroads have not yet made definite announcements, but by regulations of the interstate commerce commission, they must act in unison in such matters.

Application for reservations are pouring in to the city's various hotels.

Those received so far include a request from Charles D. Hills, national committeeman from New York state, for a reservation for 25 rooms and 100 seats at the inaugural parade.

Willis B. Dye, of the Indiana state republican committee, has asked for hotel accommodations and seats for 125 persons.

The recent Scott divorce case brought the prohibition scandal in Washington to a climax. The real drys realize that they must suppress drinking congressmen who vote dry.

Against those who vote wet, the dry can't do much in the formers' own constituencies. But the dry who drink are vulnerable.

The dry are sending thousands of letters to voters in the districts the wet drys represent, saying in effect:

"Do you know that your congressman drinks? Well, he does. It's up to you to put a stop to it."

This campaign is getting results. The wet drys are in a state of hysterics. But aren't they also somewhat sore on the dry drys? I'll say so.

MORE RAIN IS HOPED FOR BY BEAN GROWERS IN SOUTHLAND

OPTIMISM IS SHOWN TOWARD NEW SEASON

Food Brokers and Cannery of Fruit Report Big Increase In Orders

If abundant rainfall will only come to Southern California during the next few weeks, the prospects for the planting and production of a normal crop of lima and baby lima beans and the marketing of them on a satisfactory price basis would then be most excellent, according to R. L. Churchill, manager of the California Lima Bean Growers' association.

Mr. Churchill has just returned from a trip of visitation to 30 of the principal distributing markets of the Middle West, the Atlantic seaboard and Southern states, including attendance at Cincinnati of the National Convention of Cannery, Food Brokers and Wholesale Grocers which had a large representation from all sections of the country.

Expect Big 1925 Crop

Speaking of the conditions which he found and the opinions generally expressed by the hundreds of jobbers, brokers and cannery men with whom he talked, Mr. Churchill said:

"An almost universal feeling of optimism seemed to exist with reference to the expectation that 1925 will prove to be a good year in practically all lines of business. Nearly all wholesalers and jobbers reported that the first several weeks of the new year had brought them a very satisfactory volume of sales, considerably in excess of that during the same period of the previous year, and this despite a higher price level on most food products."

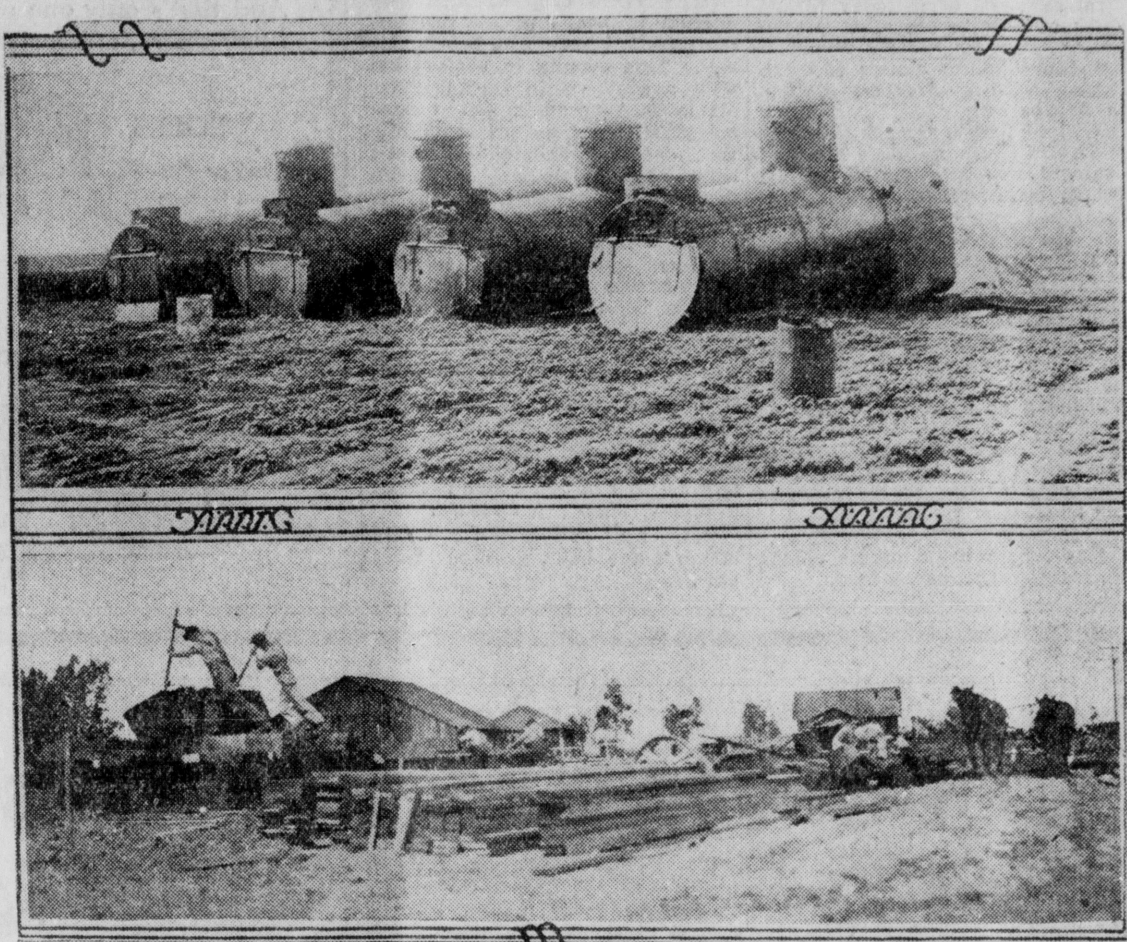

"Food brokers and cannery of fruits and vegetables likewise reported a larger volume of bookings of orders for the coming crop of canned fruits and vegetables during the last half of January and the first half of February than the previous year."

Financial Conditions Better

"With the financial condition of the farmers noticeably improved and with most mines, mills and manufacturing plants running upon a good schedule, the average purchasing power of the people is be-

MAKE HISTORY IN NEW LOCAL OIL FIELD; DERRICK IS NEARLY READY FOR DRILLING

Here are Standard Oil employees who are believed to be making history in their work of building the rig that will support the drilling equipment to be used in sinking the first well in prospecting the Santa Ana oil field for black gold. The derrick today had nearly attained its full height and it was expected that by Monday installation of machinery would be in progress. The four boilers, each of 70 horsepower, that will supply power for the drilling operations also are shown here.

MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT NOW ON GROUND; BORING TO BE STARTED BY MARCH 15

Employees of the Standard Oil company today were pushing with all possible speed construction of the derrick and installation of drilling equipment for the company's first test well in the prospective Santa Ana oil field south of this city.

The initial attempt is being made at a point approximately 250 feet west and south of the Paulino school house. Much of the machinery to be used is on the ground. Derrick builders have been working with all speed to get the gear rigged in the shortest time possible. The derrick will be completed by tomorrow evening, although ground for its location was not broken until late Monday afternoon.

It is estimated it will take a couple of weeks to set up the machinery and get the equipment in operation. Under the lease made with the Irvine company the Standard must start drilling operations on or before March 15.

It is said Standard oil geologists selected the location because of the dome existing at that point. It is

SET DATE FOR TRIAL OF DRY LEAGUE FOUR

Mrs. Beverly Ward, wife of the anti-saloon league's chief investigator, and her three co-defendants, Mrs. Jessie Wall, E. R. Wall and Frank Martin, will go on trial in the superior court, March 23, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

That date was fixed today by Superior Judge F. C. Drumm when the four anti-saloon league operatives entered pleas of not guilty to the charge. Two days were reserved on the court calendar for the trial.

The two couples were operating in Santa Ana last November when they encountered Ivory Shields, 20, Shields claims they induced him to procure liquor for them and then offered him a drink.

'Jingo' Talk Is Deprecated By Visiting American Who Knows Conditions

"All this talk about war between the United States and Japan over the immigration question is nothing but pure bunk—the irresponsible and harmful talk of jingoes and uninformed people who are unconsciously hurting their own interests. With the United States as her principal customer for her export goods and still suffering from the terrible effects of the earthquakes of a few years ago, the Japanese people have no desire to go to war."

This is the news brought to Santa Ana by Alfred C. Walliser, manager of the foreign tea department of J. A. Folger and Company, one of the leading import houses in San Francisco. The visitor is registered at Hotel Santa Ana. He has been in Japan for the past 11 years and speaks and reads Japanese fluently. He makes his headquarters at Shizuoka, the trade center of the Japanese tea market, a city of about 70,000 people, located about 150 miles west of Tokyo.

Sees New Japan

Speaking of conditions in the island empire, Walliser said that a new Japan is springing up on the ruins of the structures destroyed in the great earthquake. "It is a new Japan in every respect—a nation with new spirit and a changed outlook on life. Hero worship and the warlike spirit of the samurai party have been forced to the background by the ideals of democracy and representative government," the tea man declared.

According to Walliser, the rebirth of Japan has been accomplished by the younger generation of the student body of the nation, who, following the trend of the times, have injected their influence in public affairs.

While the mere questioning of military conscription would have been an unheard of thing before the war, and was accepted as a matter of fact, its existence as a national institution is being questioned today by young Japan and in certain ultra radical circles there is a decided opposition to it. Even the value of military training in the public schools has come in for a good deal of comment, all of which has not been complimentary. As a matter of fact, the pendulum has swung the other way with the introduction of socialist and communistic doctrines. The Russian Soviet government is blamed for the spread of socialist propaganda among high school pupils and university students, which is published in English, and therefore escapes the attention of the police and the general public.

Says Japs Are Proud

The general attitude of young Japan toward preparedness is not to be confused with pacifism, on the contrary "the people realize the value of military strength and the need of national defense, Walliser explained. "The Japanese are a proud people and very sensitive to insult, hence no mandate would be needed to send them to the battlefields in defense of their national honor should the occasion arise," the visitor observed.

Walliser voiced the belief that had the Japanese immigration question been handled in a more diplomatic and tactful manner, a good deal of unnecessary friction and embarrassing situations could have been avoided. Coupled with this observation, he added that if given more time and by allowing the state department to handle the situation, the same results would have been obtained.

RECORD OF S. A. HIGH SCHOOL TERMS OF OFFICE WRITTEN ON FACE OF HISTORIC GAVEL

Here is a good looking high school girl handing to Victor Walker, student body president at Santa Ana polytechnic high school, the historic gavel upon which is inscribed the names of many preceding presidents.

SAYS LEADERS ARE NEED OF LOCAL SCOUTS

A plea for more executives and leaders for the Boy Scout movement was made yesterday noon by Roland Dye at the weekly meeting of the Loyal Knights of the Round Table.

Dye, who is chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America in Santa Ana, likened the aims of the Boy Scouts to those of the service clubs. He declared the first principle of Boy Scouts is his duty to God, the next, his duty to his country and third, his duty to himself.

"It's not: 'Can I serve the Boy Scout Movement?'" said Dye. "The big question is: 'Am I big enough to lead those boys?'"

The scout executive told of the work and good being accomplished by the scouts throughout the building of the man power and brain power of the nation depends upon the rearing and raising of these lads.

Reports of the charter banquet of the Knights was made by Secretary W. I. Stewart.

A committee to nominate permanent officers for the coming year was appointed by President Clyde Downing. Dr. Will Flood, John F. Rabe and C. A. Olson were named. They will report at the meeting next Thursday. The Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table have been functioning during the pre-organization period with temporary officers.

Hat Hatfield was chairman of the day yesterday.

Mrs. Eleanor Young Elliott of The Register gave an interesting and original monologue. Mrs. Fred Medbery sang two solos, "Irish Love Song" and "Garden of My Heart."

Down from the dim and misty past of more than a decade ago, 22 presidents of the student body of the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school have transmitted their authority by the school gavel.

Each succeeding president has taken his place in the background but the record of his term and the reign of power is proved by his carved name on the gavel.

Here is the name of Ray Adkinson, the first on the mallet. In simple lettering there is the date, "Feb.-June, '14."

A 11-year span is indicated within a few inches distance with another name, Victor Walker, with the date, "Feb.-June, '25."

Must Keep It In Safe

Tradition has built up a number of exacting demands during the history of the gavel. It provides that the president carve his name with his own hand. It requires the use of the gavel in inauguration ceremonies. It necessitates the keeping of gavel in the huge school safe.

With time, some of the names of the gavel have become so dim that they are scarce legible. Others of recent times stand out sharply.

In the historical interest, the gavel would have quite an account to give if it could relate the past. It had seen two years' service before D. K. Hammond took the principal's chair.

It could tell of scholarship achievements and athletic triumphs. It could relate the activities during the time of the World war. It might agree to talk of the school political campaigns, one of which resulted in the gavel being made.

In 1914 Ray Adkinson was elected after a fierce campaign had been fought. Adkinson wanted to have some immortal monument, so he had a friend, Stanley Mansur who is now of Orange, make the gavel in the woodshops of the school.

Presidents Now Editors, Farmers

The past presidents have spread far and wide over the globe, entering all walks of life from editors to farmers. Many are prominent in Santa Ana and Orange county affairs today.

From the names on the gavel, Erving Burns was followed by Russell Adkinson, the first semester of 1915, from September to February. Marvin Morrison filled out the second semester.

Russell Adkinson and Charles McClain were the presidents during the year, 1916. Following them, Tom Robertson and "Gene" Trago held office.

During 1918, Felton Browning and Edmund West succeeded to the presidency. Then in 1919 Paul H. Burns and Lynn Crawford were elected.

Hillard Tyrrell and George Baker held the office for 1920. The following year Donald Hilliard and Clarence "Clary" Brown were voted to the positions.

For the next year the names engraved on the gavel are those of Harry LeBar and Howard Cock. Elliott Best and Carl Black succeeded in 1923.

The presidents during 1924 were Roy LeBar and Lloyd Morris. During this last semester James Gilstrap filled the higher office and now Victor Walker is serving in the capacity of president.

SEWER ODORS IRK NEWPORT; ASK REMEDY IMMEDIATELY

Condition at Ocean End of Joint Outfall System Gives Trouble

BEACH CITIES SEEK JOINT CONFERENCE

May Be Necessary to Extend Pipe Further Into Ocean Belief

Declaring that serious objections are being raised against objectionable odors resulting from sewage from the joint outfall sewer being dumped into the ocean, George Wilson, mayor of Newport Beach, announced today that members of the councils at Newport Beach and Huntington Beach in the immediate future would ask for a conference with representatives of the councils at Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton for discussion of the situation and development of plans for removal of the condition.

It was asserted by Wilson that solids from the sewer had been deposited on the beach, but he explained this probably was the result of an overflow at the treatment plant of the joint outfall. He pointed out that it would be impossible for solids to pass the screening plant in any other way.

Condition Admitted

Charles H. Chapman, chairman of the sewer committee of the Santa Ana council, today was frank in his admission that from the odor standpoint there is just cause for complaint, but denied that solids get by the screening plant.

"We recognize that something will have to be done at the ocean end of the line, but what can be done that will remedy the condition remains to be determined," Chapman said.

"R. F. Goudy, sanitary engineer for the state board of health, recently has been at the outlet and investigated conditions. He said that they are no worse here than at other points where sewage is dumped into the ocean."

May Extend Pipeline

The sewer committee said it may be necessary to extend the pipe line further out in the ocean, but that he was not yet satisfied that this would overcome the condition.

"Grease and oil in the sewage is indissoluble and this is one of the sources of the odor complained of," Chapman said.

"When the tide is low, the sun beats down on the deposits on the sand and produces the odor. The odor is not noticeable at high tide."

It was said also that residents along the Anaheim sewer line, complain that the odor from that line is almost unbearable. It was said this is the result of sewage developed at the chemical plant in Anaheim. It is understood that the management of the plant is taking steps to take care of its waste in some other way, and it is anticipated there will be no further complaint when this is done.

"Dad and I"

—wear the Same Style in Suits, and Mother Feels Good About it"

Few boys have heard or understood the sighs that have accompanied their first proud experience with long-pants suits—the parents that have stood back silently rebelling against or sadly regretting, the knowledge that the boy is "growing up."

This sentiment has been so closely woven in our conduct of our boys' department, and the feeling so personal, that we have never advocated "man styles" for boys around 12 or 14 years—until this spring!

The reason for the change of heart is the suits themselves. While they may be "English cut" and in many respects resemble Dad's own suits, there is a subtle difference that retains all the youthfulness and boyishness of the boy's true age.

Remember, that we are passing the day when young folks are seen and not heard. This is Youth's very own era—and only the dawning of new and unheard of accomplishments and early developments. You certainly want YOUR boy abreast of the times—mentally, first, and then in appearance.

So, the secret of this article on long-trousers suits lies in the fact that while they are mannish, they are but the appropriate apparel for the real honest-to-john boys of today.

Two Pairs of Trousers

We offer the new, smart, swagger suits for boys as young as 12 or 13 years, and up to 22 years—in new Greys, Tans, with shadow stripes, at the moderate pricings of —less when only one pair of pants is wanted. There are other new ones at $30, $35 and $42.50.

$23.50 and $27.50

Chic! Apricot Kid and Patent

Take a patent leather vamp, mix with apricot colored kid quarters, add a spike heel, carefully throw a small strap over the arch and tie it on the side, and you have a bit of shoe fancy that is beautiful to behold! And its daintiness seems to be enhanced when it is finally fitted on the foot. It is a wonderful shoe for the money. A smart style—and everything!

Priced the Newcomb way at—

The Newcomb Idea of $6.50, $7.50 and $8.50 Shoes is to provide NEW shoes, smartly styled shoes, of worthy make, at these moderate pricings.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.
Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agent for the treatment of chronic cough and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.
Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

How to Speedily Gain Strength and Put on Needed Weight

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

But no body wants to take the fish-smelling, horrible tasting, stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely has proved a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after a severe illness and especially after the Grippe or a stubborn cough or cold.

Ask for White Cross Drug Co., C. S. Kelley Drug Co., Mateo's, or any regular druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.
Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist will return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.
Great for weak, skinny, backward run-down children, too, and gives them a hearty appetite.

ACTION BY COUNTY BOARD TO PROTECT OCEAN FRONTAGE IS URGED BY ASSOCIATED C. C.

Institution by the board of supervisors of "condemnation proceedings whenever and wherever necessary in order to insure for all time the use of the ocean frontage for the people of Orange county or for the protection of the ocean frontage" is urged upon the board of supervisors by a resolution adopted last night at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Orange county at Brea.

Presented by E. R. Walker, of Placentia, the resolution declared that the advancement of one section of the county was of benefit to the entire county, and suggested that the supervisors, officials and all organizations of the county cooperate in any movement that is necessary to preserve the shoreline to the public.

The resolution was presented following discussions on the proposed establishment of a county park on the beach near Huntington Beach by J. A. Armistead, Huntington Beach; J. H. Wallace, Newport Beach; Dr. J. D. Thomas, Oliver; C. E. Lee, Placentia, and V. D. Johnson, Orange.

The discussions centered around the proposed location of a negro summer resort near Huntington Beach, but the resolution did not carry recommendation that the county acquire a 30 or 40 acre tract for the park as has been suggested to the supervisors, the tract to include seven acres said to have been purchased as a resort for negroes.

H. H. Henshaw, of Laguna Beach, asserted that a 130-acre tract on the coast line five miles below Laguna Beach could be bought for county park purposes for $300,000 with a down payment of $80,000 and the balance spread over a long period of years.

Reporting for the committee on location of the southern branch of the state university, G. W. Finch, Fullerton, announced that claims of Los Angeles county that 85 per cent of the students at the branch were in Los Angeles had been refuted by investigations made by Fullerton men. He said that 47 per cent of the students were from Los Angeles, including those who have moved to the city temporarily to attend the college, and that not more than one-third of the pupils were bona fide residents of the metropolis.

Favor Fullerton Site.
Pointing out that selection of the site by the regents is to be made on March 10, Finch said that the Fullerton site of 1000 acres had gained great favor among Southern Californians outside of Los Angeles, and that on March 10 the regents would be spread all over Orange county.

The importance of all sections of Orange county co-operating in the conservation of water by damming the Santa Ana river and in the proposal to bring Colorado river water to the Southern California for domestic consumption, was stressed by L. F. Coburn, of Orange, president of the associated chambers. His declaration that Orange county cannot continue to develop unless more water is made available for future use was supported by Wallace, who said that development of industrial at Orange county harbor and through-out the county would be strongly influenced by availability of domestic water.

Stresses Water Needs.
"The harbor and Orange county cannot become the great industrial sections we vision unless we have other than the present sources of supply of domestic water," Wallace said.

"Water from the Santa Ana river has not run to the ocean for two years, but we are liable at any time to have a flood that will do incalculable damage in the county," Coburn said, in urging that some step be taken to conserve and control the waters of the river.

Defending the board of supervisors against charges that the board has been dilatory in the matter of acquiring tide lands on Newport bay, H. A. Lake, Garden Grove, chairman of the harbor commission, said that steps long ago were taken to secure for the county whatever lands on the harbor belong to it. He said that the attorney who handled the tideland situation at San Pedro had been secured and that investigations were being made preparatory to legal action. The attorney, General Lansing H. Beach, consulting engineer, T. B. Tabor and Lake will meet here at noon Wednesday for a conference on the subject.

A. S. Bradford, of Placentia, was named as an additional representative from Orange county on the board of directors of the California Development association.

The March meeting of the county boost body will be held in Santa Ana. It being the annual session, officers will be elected.
Directed by E. R. Hunt, secretary, the Brea chamber of commerce offered a special program of entertainment during the service of the meal by members of the Ladies' Aid society. The program consisted of selections by the union high school orchestra, saxophone solo by Arthur Harrison, xylophone numbers by Ted Corcoran, accompanied by his sister Alice Corcoran, and clever readings by Mrs. Lina Russell.

The address of welcome was by C. A. Sullivan, mayor, and response was by E. T. Pickering, Garden Grove.

LANDS IN JAIL ON REFUSAL TO SUPPORT HOME

When Pedro Gonzales, of Delhi, airily declined to provide $25 per month for the support of his youngest children unless he could dictate terms, he was painfully surprised today at Justice K. E. Morrison's action of clapping him in jail without further ado.

Gonzales, who was arrested yesterday, came into court for arraignment today and the justice offered to place him at liberty if he would support his children. Pedro seemed to mistake the leniency as inability of the law to do anything with him. He shook his head and condescendingly stated that he would pay the amount requested if his wife would return to his home, which she recently left to avoid many beatings, the authorities said.

The court pointed out that domestic quarrels were a different matter and that the children must be supported. But Pedro was obdurate and waved his hand to declare the matter closed.

He was rudely surprised when the court also waved his hand, and an unympathetic deputy sheriff led him away to jail. The preliminary hearing is set for March 6.

Prominent L. A. Woman Educator Visits In S. A.

Miss Madeline Veverka, supervisor of kindergartens and primary education, Los Angeles City school system, and well known educator, was a visitor today at the offices of County superintendent of Schools R. P. Mitchell.

Miss Veverka is chairman of the general convention committee of the International Conference of Kindergarten Teachers and Supervisors, to be held in Los Angeles July 8-11, this year, and to which invitations have been extended to all countries to send representatives.

According to the visitor, the conference will be attended by close to 2000 delegates, the majority coming from different parts of the United States and Canada. There will be a fair representation, however, from different European countries, China, Japan, the Philippines and a number of South American republics.

Bad Luck and the Devil Pursued Him

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs, an arm and collar bone broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever, since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

MACHINERY IS NOW ON GROUND

their belief, according to reports, that the dome is the result of gas pressure hundreds of feet below.

Ready To Go Deep

The equipment delivered on the ground appears to be new and indicates that the prospecting company is preparing to go to a great depth if it is necessary to definitely determine whether or not oil underlies the district to the south and particularly in the location where the well is being sunk.

Land owners and others interested in the development of oil south of the city have expressed their satisfaction with leasing developments, the satisfaction coming from the fact that the Standard, Shell and Gulf companies, all big concerns, have acquired the drilling rights. They are of the opinion that operations of the company will be of a type that will forever settle the question as to whether Santa Ana ever will have a real oil field.

Report has it that at least the Shell and the Standard have entered into an agreement by which they will sink several wells in different parts of a district that may be roughly described as lying between Edinger street, on the north, and the coast line on the south, and Greenville road on the west and the Newport boulevard on the east, as that road marks the east at a point where it is intersected by Delhi road.

Acquire Big Acreage

The Standard is said to have secured a lease to 2500 acres on the Irvine ranch, the tract being in the Paulmarino district. It also is known that the company has acquired a large acreage from individual owners within the territory outlined.

Interest of the oil world now is centered on the activity in this field and results from contemplated development work will be anticipated with keen interest both by the oil world and by that portion of the world represented by Santa Ana and immediate vicinity.

The territory is large and if oil should be found the big oil companies have a control that would prevent quick exhaustion of the field.

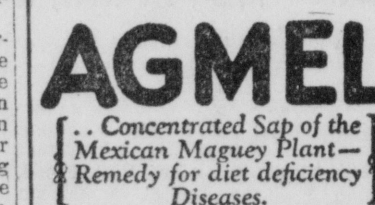

It would not be a situation where a well would be sunk on every 50-foot lot—it would be a situation where drilling probably would be limited to a well on each five acres.

TWO FACTORIES INSPECTED BY CLUB MEMBERS

Santa Ana's industrial section again was given the "once over" by the membership of the Lions club, when the club yesterday held its weekly luncheon at the Lloyd Park cafe and later visited two of the big industrial—the factories of the Standard American Glass company and the Ulmer Machinery company.

The business session at the cafe was very brief, and consisted mostly of announcements, one of which concerned a Lions club party for women on the evening of March 20. The place had not been selected, according to Lyle Anderson, who heads the committee making arrangements for the evening affair.

Musicians Address Club
Following announcement by D. C. Cianfoni, director of the Santa Ana Municipal band, that he is making arrangements to have two or three prominent musicians of the southland address the Lions on March 26, it was decided that women should be guests of the club on that date. Cianfoni is to be program chairman.

Going first to the factory of the Ulmer Machinery company, pump manufacturers, the Lions were shown some of the operations of the plant and explanations were made by Earl Martin, secretary of the organization.

Among other things he said that the company planned to greatly enlarge its plant, and that the company could design and build complete in its own plant any type of pump that a customer might want. The secretary said that since the company opened here in January it had received orders for forty pumps.

At the glass factory, John Brink, superintendent, explained some of the operations in the manufacture of glass, directing attention particularly to the process of blowing the molten material in cylindrical form. He pointed out the processes of flattening out the glass and later its cutting into various sizes. The plant covers considerable space and the visitors were taken to the various rooms in which certain parts of the work is done. The furnace is still burning, it having been lighted following the chamber of commerce luncheon served some weeks ago. The company has not got into production. Equipment is still being installed.

The Vendor Manufacturing company has broken ground for a factory near the glass plant. It will manufacture gum and candy and gum vending machines.

Engineer Makes Talk
John Brownwall, engineer, made a short talk, outlining plans for the company. He said that creation of at least two more units was expected to be a development of a later date, as business expanded, and that when the company had completed its full program it would have expended approximately a quarter of a million dollars.

S. A. School Girls Hear Food Talk

Nutrition elements of foods were discussed before the domestic science girls' classes at the Santa Ana high school yesterday by Miss Jean Huddleston, representative of the California dairy council.

From the view of a food specialist, she told the value of different kinds of food stressing the need for balanced eating.

"The man who is planning to build a house carefully considers what materials he will need in the construction but man in supplying his body with nourishment generally does not think about the materials he is using," Miss Huddleston declared.

MERCHANTS BUY FLAGS, SOCKETS THROUGH POST

Members of the American Legion's flag committee have sold $109 worth of flags to downtown merchants within the past several days, according to announcement today by Wilbur Getty, commander of Post No. 131.

Flags and sockets are being sold to merchants, all of whom have been asked to display the flag on legal holidays in front of their stores.

It is the plan of the Legion to sell one flag to each merchant in the downtown area of the city, making the display uniform throughout the city. San Bernardino, Orange and a number of other cities in the southern part of the state have adopted the uniform style of decoration and the sales have met with success.

Flags sold to Santa Ana merchants are of a much higher grade than those seen in nearby cities, however, it was pointed out. The flag itself is all sewn, even to the stars, while the poles are more substantial.

"We have had no trouble at all in disposing of $109 worth of flags this past week, and the committee has, so far, not given much time to the sale of the flags. We hope in a short time to cover the city like a blanket and have the flags here in time for the next national holiday," said Getty today.

Sockets are made in the sidewalk in front of business houses for the flags. The local post of the Legion has secured the endorsement of the city of Santa Ana authorizing the sales.

Roland Dye is chairman of the local post's flag committee.

Local Artist Is Made Member of Exclusive Club

Jack Fisher, artist for Wayne Goble Sign company, last night was honored by being elected to membership in the Adventurers' club of America. Fisher has the distinction of being the youngest member ever to be elected to that organization.

The Adventurers' club is probably one of the most exclusive in the United States and the requirements for membership are most exacting. Fisher became eligible because of the record he made while in the World War. He also visited in the required number of foreign countries.

The club has but four chapters, one in Long Beach, Los Angeles, New York and Chicago. The club affiliates with the Savage club of London.

Among some of the most illustrious members of the organization are Gen. H. H. Whitney, former governor of Haiti, General Wood, Sir Ernest Shackleton, the British explorer, Lieut. Col. E. T. Bailey and Charles Stoddard, author of the famous Stoddard lectures. The late President Roosevelt was a charter member of the organization. The Adventurers' club meets once a month.

Music Teachers Attend Gathering

Two teachers of the Santa Ana high school music department are attending the state-wide convention of music teachers held yesterday and today at Claremont in the Pomona college.

Miss Louise Mansfield, head of the music department, and S. J. Mustol, orchestra and band director, went from here. The meeting was called by the State Board of Education for the purpose of suggesting means to increase interest in music among the students of public schools. Nationally known speakers were provided.

S. A. Merchants Are Warned of 'Check Artist'

Merchants in Santa Ana are warned to be on the watch for a "check artist" who has been operating in Fullerton for several days and who has left a trail of $50 worth of "bad checks," according to a report received today from the Fullerton police.

The man is described as being 35 years of age, 150 pounds in weight and 5 feet 8 inches in height. He is well dressed, wears a small moustache and was last seen in a dapper grey suit, light fedora hat and a green overcoat.

His scheme, according to the police, is to go into a town, rent a room at a private residence, go to a grocery store, buy a number of groceries and tender a check in payment for about twice the amount, pocketing the change. He is alleged to have done this several times in Fullerton, using the name of J. K. Brooks, and also the name of Burley. He poses as an I. O. O. F. and a Mason and at times wears an I. O. O. F. pin in the lapel of his coat.

Checks written by him were on banks in Whittier.

A real horse race is pictured in Tom Mix's latest production, "Oh, You Tony," now showing at the West End theater. It is not a turf course race but a road race; up hill, down dale, through cow paths, over fences and across trackless fields. A he-man western race in which heart and courage counted more than speed.

Here is how it developed into a contest, not merely a sequence:
Director J. G. Blystone was outlining the course of action to be taken in the race when one of the actors who was riding in it, a real jockey, incidentally questioned:
"Suppose I find myself winning the race shall I pull my horse and let Mix go ahead?"
Blystone did not have a chance to answer. As if he considered the question an affront to Tony's ability, Tom Mix replied:
"There will be no pulling in this race. It's to be run on the level and if Tony can't win the race I'll get a horse that can and we'll shoot the scene again. That goes for everybody."

And so the race was run and despite obstacles placed in Tony's path by the villains the race was not re-run.

Claire Adams plays opposite Mr. Mix in the role of leading lady. Others in the cast are Dolores Rousse, Earle Foxe, Charles K. Fox, Pat Chrisman, Mathilda Brundage, May Wallace, Evelyn Sherman.

"CHEAPER TO MARRY" ENDS ENGAGEMENT TONIGHT.
"Cheaper to Marry," Samuel Shipman's dramatic success from the New York stage has been brought to the screen by Robert Z. Leonard and will be seen at the Walker theater for the last time tonight.

And at last a play has been filmed without a single fundamental change in the plot. "Cheaper to Marry" was screened with unusual fidelity to the playwright's original story.

Based around a man's contempt for conventions, the picture, with its startling ending, brings out with realism that "free love" does not pay. The basic story is a powerful one, and under the skilled direction of Leonard, producer of all Mae Murray's biggest successes, a beautiful picturization of the gay whirl of modern social life provides the background for the intense dramatic action.

On the screen "Cheaper to Marry" has an exceptionally fine cast, including Paulette Goddard, Conrad Nagel, Lewis S. Stone, Marguerite de la Motte, Louise Fazenda, Claude Gillingwater and Richard Wayne.

Jim Knight, played by Mr. Stone, is a cynic who does not believe in marriage. He sets Evelyn Gardner up in a luxurious apartment. This role is played by Miss Duval.

Dick Tyler, portrayed by Mr. Nagel, holds that matrimony is the best policy, and he marries Doris Parker (Marguerite de la Motte). As the story comes to its conclusion in a thrilling scene in the stock exchange, the wisdom of his course becomes apparent.

Louise Fazenda and Claude Gillingwater are seen in two of the best characterizations these prominent players have ever given, providing the picture with an endless chain of laughs. Richard Wayne is also in the cast.

RAYMOND GRIFFITH UNABLE TO TALK LOUDLY.
Perhaps nothing worse can befall an actor on the legitimate stage than the loss of his voice. When such an misfortune comes to an actor whose family for five generations has been identified with the stage, it would seem that Fate could not deal a harder blow.

Raymond Griffith, playing opposite Bebe Daniels in her latest picture, "Miss Bluebeard," now showing at the Yost, was the victim of such a mishap a few years ago. The son of an actor, Griffith was practically born into the theater. It was while he was playing the boy in "The Witching Hour," during the performance of which

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION
Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisulphate of Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisulphate of Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisulphate of Magnesia. Especially prepared for stomach use—Adv.

WOMEN DIFFER WITH COOLIDGE ON APPOINTEES

BY LARRY BOARDMAN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—President Coolidge is discovering the truth of that well-known and justly famous quote, "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned."

He started the discovery process almost immediately after letting it be known that no new avenue of government activity would be opened to women during his administration.

This policy was defined when he refused appointment of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general as federal judge in California.

His position was that he would appoint women where precedent exists, but would make no appointments where women do not already hold posts.

This was not exactly calculated to endear him to the hearts of the women in politics.

It didn't—particularly as he took his stand right in the midst of the fight over the proposed equal rights amendment, while advocates of the measure were declaring one of their main complaints to be the inequality of opportunity between men and women for holding office!

What They Say
Leaders of the National Woman's Party, gathered here for the amendment fight, flew to arms. Here's what some of them say:
Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, member of U. S. Supreme Court Bar: "The president's attitude means that he favors stopping the progress of women towards recognition."

"Women pay taxes equally with men. Why should they not be entitled to equal opportunity in public employment?"

Miss Gail Laughlin, founder of National Business and Professional Women's League: "Fortunately for the progress of the world we have had people who do not wait for the precedent, but go ahead with the new and untried. Otherwise we should still be in cave days."

Miss Mabel Vernon, Woman's Party executive secretary: "The president is simply missing an opportunity to align himself with the spirit of the times, for everyone recognizes that the day is not far distant when women will hold high positions both by election and appointment."

"Regrettable," She Says.
Miss Emma Vold, Woman's Party executive secretary: "It is regrettable that the first man of the land should take the traditional position that the point already reached is the last safe point."

"We all know that this position, in practice, is untenable. "One must either go forward or back. The advance of women in official positions, after all, does not depend upon the attitude of one man."

Miss Margaret Whittemore, Woman's Party vice president: "As a citizen of California, I would greatly desire to see Mrs. Willebrandt appointed."

"I have personally so informed the president, and I cannot believe the president would take such a retrogressive and unfair step on this question as to debar a person so capable of filling the office on the sole ground of being a woman."

sure in this action in a manner which conclusively demonstrated that the speculative underpinnings were remarkably well entrenched.

In fact, the reaction which developed in today's session might readily have resulted from technical factors which have saved the market from a normal corrective setback. Moreover, it was a debatable question whether the reaction went no further than a normal corrective setback. Moreover, it was a debatable question whether the
reaction went no further than a normal corrective setback.

As it was, the general list was sluggish throughout the morning trading, without any particular losses in the representative stocks while the sale for borrowing over the week-end was marked up to five per cent, however, considerable quantities of stocks were thrown on the market, forcing considerable recessions in the active issues.

But these offerings were quickly absorbed and the general list shaped back with a vigor which left no doubt as to the influence of the buying which took advantage of the lower price levels.

The market closed lower. Closing prices included:

Medical scientists say that re-haired women suffer less from serious diseases than darker women.
This is put down to the fact that the skin of red-haired people is inherently quicker to function than that of other folks. In other words, it sheds poisons more rapidly than a dark skin.

Cats are one of the few animals that cannot throw off water easily.
They always "get wet to the skin."

ALL-STARS HOPE TO EVEN SERIES SUNDAY

Santa Ana Loses First Meet To Long Beach

LOSS OF VETS BEATS LOCALS IN LOOP DEBUT

Howard, McKean, Paul and Dawson Win First Places For Ray Adkinson's Men

Meeting a powerful antagonist on foreign soil and without the services of three star veterans proved too great a handicap for Coach Ray Adkinson and his Santa Ana high school track team yesterday afternoon and the local men lost their first Coast Preparatory league meet of the season by a score of 65 1-2 to 49 1-2.

Harold and Gerald English, both crack performers on the oval, both watched the meet from the sidelines and Randolph Bell, star high jumper and the best of the local high hurdlers, found his ankle too weak to let him do anything. With this trio at their best, Santa Ana undoubtedly would have won the meet.

Howard Paul, Adkinson's midget star, was high point man for Santa Ana. He won the broad jump with a luncheon of 20 feet 5 inches and led a horde of Long Beach low hurdlers to the tape in 23.6 to 24.0 seconds. He also got a third in the pole vault.

Keith Howard, Bobby McKean and Ray Dawson accounted for the other Poly first places. Howard raced to victory just ahead of his teammate, Bill Young, in the 440. He was clocked in 54 seconds. McKean, just recovered from an attack of the flu, ran the best and gamest race of his career to win the 880 in 2:11 1-10. Dawson, off behind the shot for a push of 41 feet, 3 1-2 inches, enough to give the locals five points.

Harvey Bear finished a close second in both the 100 and 220.

SOUTHPAWS TO HURL AGAINST '4 MANAGERS'

Perry Callahan's Success May Force Champions to Face His Slants Again

Going right on from where they left off two weeks ago, the Irvine Beantippers, champions of the Orange County Harbor League, and the Garden Grove All-Stars, a team "hand-picked" from every other team in the circuit, clash at Irvine again Sunday afternoon.

Irvine has a 1 to 0 lead in the series. Last Sunday's battle went 10 innings to a 4 to 4 tie. The first frames was taken by the Beantippers with a margin of one run. The scores of these contests show how closely the teams are matched.

"We'll win Sunday alright," H. B. Wentz, second-baseman and manager of the All-Stars said today. "We should have won the first game and we proved we had the fight to come back when we got a tie last Sunday. Things will break out way this time. We'll win the series in the next two Sundays."

This expression of confidence on the part of the Stars' good-looking leader failed to daunt the "four managers" of Irvine. The Beantippers have the only team in the history of baseball that is directed by four different persons.

"We'll be in" after Sunday's game," Henry Jessup, one of the "four managers" declared. "We only have to get one game and that ought to be easy. We don't care who they start in the box. We'll murder a left-hander as quickly as a right-hander. They all look alike to us now."

The general public was in extreme doubt as to just who will win. Most of the wiseheads agreed that the All-Stars should have coped the opening pastime and would have had they played smarter baseball. Last Sunday's affair, however, was anybody's right down to the last minute. It goes on the record book as one of the best ever played in Orange county. Irvine got away to a fine start but the Stars battled along with rare courage and ultimately they were rewarded.

Indications today were that the "four-managers" would rely on Arch Hawkins for mound duty Sunday. The former Fullerton high school boy has been twirling nicely of late and he seems to get better as the going gets tougher. The dependable Fred Hinrichs will be there if he's needed.

Manager Wentz doesn't know who he will assign to the mound task but the dope favors Perry Callahan, the southpaw who tied Irvine in knots last Sunday. Callahan used to be a pitcher in his high school days and then because of his hitting and fielding ability began playing in the gardens. It was a real surprise when he took the hill last Sabbath but the portside more than made good.

Schaefer Makes 400 Billiards In Run from 'Spot'

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Young Jake Schaefer, son of the mighty Jake of long ago, put the family name forever in the billiard hall of fame here last night when he ran out his string of 400 from spot, defeating Erich Hagenlacher, German champion, 400 to 0.

In addition to being a world's record high run, his performance broke all precedent, for never before has a player gone out from spot in a world's championship tournament. His run of 400 beat Welmer Cochran's record of 384.

Cochran won from K. Suzuki, Japanese champion, 400 to 113 in the other match of the day. Today's matches bring Cochran's record of 384.

KEN WILLIAMS SAYS GOODBYE TO SANTA ANA

Ken Williams, famous outfielder of the St. Louis Browns and Babe Ruth's lone American league rival for home runs, bade Santa Ana a fond farewell today and departed for Tarpon Springs, Fla., where he will join his club in spring training camp.

Williams was accompanied by Mrs. Williams and their tiny son, Kenneth Jr.

The big St. Louis slugger has spent the entire winter at Laguna Beach and in Santa Ana. He moved up from the seaside resort about a month ago and has been making his home at Jackson Court on West Fourth street.

"I've enjoyed my winter here very much and I expect to be back again as soon as the ball season is over," Williams said. "I almost consider myself an Orange county resident now. I hope to have a good season with the Browns. I am feeling fine and am anxious to get hold of a glove or a bat again. I believe St. Louis has a great chance to cop the American league pennant this season."

Ernie Johnson, the American league's premier utility infielder, was making final preparations today to depart Monday from Santa Ana for St. Petersburg, Fla. Johnson, too, has enjoyed his winter in Orange county and expects to return as son as the big show closes its tent after the world series next fall.

POLY, J. C. MEN IN BIG RELAY CARNIVAL

A strong team will represent the Santa Ana junior college and high school in the annual Los Angeles A. U. relay carnival to be held at the Coliseum tomorrow. Ray Adkinson, coach of both teams, has entered athletes.

The Poly sprinters will compete in the Class C, 440 and 880 yard relay races. Adkinson probably will use Harvey Bear, Alan McDevitt, Keith Howard and Howard Paul in the 440 yard race and Bear and Howard in the Class C, 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Al Claves, the formidable j. c. sprinter, will run in the open 100 yard dash. Everett Lutz will enter the open pole vault and Charlie Webber and John Lutz the open high hurdles. The junior college team of Claves, John Lutz, "Brick" Armstrong and Webber will go after honors in the half-mile junior college relay.

A. A. U. Relays To Draw Many Stars

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—Southern California track and field stars who won honors in the 1924 Olympic relay will appear in the A. A. U. relay carnival to be staged in the Los Angeles Coliseum tomorrow.

Among the champions or near champions to compete will be Charley Paddock, sprinter de luxe; Bud Houser, shot put and discus winner at Paris; Les Barnes, Olympic pole vault champ; Normand and Otto Anderson, weight men.

Barrett Bout Top Price Will Be $5

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—When Bobby Barrett, Philadelphia lightweight, meets Dode Berco, Seattle logger, at the Vernon arena next week the top price will be $5.

Jack Doyle took a fling at the more expensive type of promoting in the Mickey Walker-Bert Collins affair and found that the Southern Californians willing to shell out $15 to see a non-championship mauling match are as scarce as rainy days.

THE 13th HOLE

Six Strokes on Hoodoo Hole Cost Wee Freddie McLeod Possible Title on Own Course

For a tiny mite Freddie McLeod was dynamic at the Columbia Country club, Washington, his home course, in the national open, in 1921.

True, Jim Barnes won the title that year by nine strokes, but McLeod, hardly bigger than a flapper's brain cell, pressed him closer than the winning margin indicates.

Indeed, McLeod might have won but for a ghastly luck at the short thirteenth. (Why is it that the thirteenth is usually a short tricky test, filled with myriad pitfalls?)

At the time of which we write Barnes was not a runaway of the tournament. The third round was on and Wee Freddie was well within whispering distance. He had come with a rush, making up three full shots since the beginning of play in the morning and was easily the most dangerous contender in the field.

The thirteenth at Columbia is 180 yards long. Conditions were ideal and McLeod hit what he considered a nifty.

"If I'm close enough I'll have a putt for a deuce," mused the midget.

But the ball caught the top of the trap, a few inches short of where it was intended, and buried itself in the sanded embarrassment.

McLeod is, as you may have suspected, Scotch. Some of the Scots have explosive temperaments. On the day Wee Freddie had also an explosive nibble.

And when he struck, the ball short from one trap far over the green and came to rest in another. And, as if that was not tragic enough, he banged away again, with more violence, perhaps, than skill, and the ball went back where it had nestled before in almost the very same spot.

Well, when Wee Freddie had finished he was scored with a six where he had counted on a three at the most, possibly a two. On the same hole Barnes, not playing any too well himself, had taken a four.

It is not hard for golfers to imagine what might have happened to Barnes peace of mind had McLeod scored perfectly on the jinx hole, and Wee Freddie insists it was a jinx hole. "For it was just 13 years before that I had won the title at Chicago," he laments.

BOWLES ALLEY TEAM DEFEATS TORRANCE, 4-0

Let on by the veteran "Moose" Ames who punished the pins for games of 189, 243 and 235 and a series of 667, the Bowles Motor company bowling team, Santa Ana representative in the Southern California league, came back into the race for title honors by whitewashing Torrance, 4 to 0, at the A. and B. alleys here last night.

It was the first series victory for the local quintette in more than a month and broke their slump that had dropped them from third place in the 16-team circuit to far down in the second division.

Ames was hitting the woodpile in his old-time form, getting eight consecutive strikes in the second game and starting off with six in a row in the third pastime.

The entire Santa Ana team got going in the third game, winning it by more than 100 pins, and in so doing totaling 1033 sticks. Guy Martin had 217 and "Stormy" G. don 218 in addition to Ames' 235.

Penny Jones, the local "smokeball" king, had another big series. He got off with a 215-tilt and followed this with games of 203 and 190 for a 608 series.

The Bowles five goes on the road next Thursday night, meeting the league-leading Arcade Alleys team at Long Beach.

Last night's scores follow:

Torrance	1st	2nd	3rd	Tot.

TIGER FLOWERS IS KAYOED BY DELANEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—"If Jack Delaney cracks Harry Greb like he cracked me there's going to be a new middleweight champion," said Tiger Flowers, Atlanta Negro, today.

For the second time within a few weeks, Delaney, the Bridgeport sniper, brought down Flowers with one right hand punch in the fourth round in Madison Square Garden last night before a capacity crowd.

Flowers said after the fight that he was satisfied with the referee's decision and that he was also convinced that Delaney was the better fighter. After he was knocked out the first time by Delaney recently, Flowers charged that Delaney slipped an iron bolt into his glove after the first round.

A YEAR AGO TODAY

George Sisler, Jimmy Austin, Hilary Tyrrell and Ed Cutting, the latter two Santa Ana semi-pros, left this city for Mobile to open the spring training camp of the St. Louis Browns.

Anahem won the Orange county baseball championship by defeating Irvine, 12 to 3, in the third and deciding game of the series between the two clubs.

Santa Ana's Class C basketball team defeated Whittier, 23 to 4, and captured the Coast Preparatory league title.

Cub Catcher Finds Hoop Game Leading Off Season Pastime

LEO HARTNETT

Like several other big league players, Leo Hartnett keeps in trim during the winter months on the basketball floor. He's just as good at the court game as he is on the diamond. And that's a bit of praise, too. For no less authority than John McGraw rates Hartnett one of the best catchers in the National league.

POLY CLASS C'S IN FIGHT FOR PENNANT

Beginning the fight for their second Southern California Class C championship, Coach Ed Covington's Santa Ana high school "wonder team" travels to Riverside tonight to combat Hemet high school's midget five, champions of Riverside county.

Covington said today he would start Ray Smith and Merle Yonel at forwards; Lory Walbridge at center, and Captain Willard White and Odie Goodman at guards. Borden, McElree, Prior, Hill and Fosdick will be in reserve.

The locals trimmed Anaheim's 130-pound team early this week, 23 to 21. The Class C substitutes lost to the same team yesterday, 16 to 16.

Ace Hudkins To Meet Pat Mills In Hollywood Go

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—"Ace" Hudkins, the lightweight fighter whose immediate ambition is a crack at Joe Benjamin, goes against Pat Mills, who boasts a decision over Alex Hart, in a 10-round bout at the Hollywood American Legion tonight.

Hudkins, by virtue of his wins over Tommy Carter, Spag Myers and Morris Schaffner, is a favorite to defeat Mills despite the latter's victory over the Philadelphia entrant in the New York state boxing commission's tournament to pick Benny Leonard's successor.

Hudkins figures that by getting past Mills he will have a clear case for a battle against Benjamin, if that good-looking young gentleman can be persuaded to share his viewpoint.

MOFFAT TUNNEL IS ONE-THIRD THROUGH RANGE

DENVER, Feb. 27.—The Moffat tunnel, piercing the continental divide of the Rocky mountains west of here, and one of the world's greatest railroad bores, is nearly one-third completed, and is 10 per cent ahead of the time schedule set by the builders.

To date the pioneer, or water tunnel has been bored 6500 feet from the east portal and 5490 feet from the west portal, or more than one-third of the six mile distance. The main heading has penetrated James peak 6213 feet from the east portal, and 4700 feet from the west. The cross cut tunnels, connecting the main and water bores at intervals of from 1300 to 1500 feet, have reached a total of 520 feet. Each of these cross cut tunnels is approximately seventy-five feet in length. The full size railway tunnel has penetrated 3094 feet, from the east and 531 feet from the west portal.

West End Timbered.

At present the work of enlarging the main heading, which is being drilled seven and one-half by nine feet, to the full size tunnel, which will be sixteen by twenty-four feet, is proceeding as fast as the work at the front. At this rate, tunnel engineers estimate, within a year this work will be abreast of the main heading.

The slowness of progress on the western end is accounted for by the fact that builders have encountered soft shale and dirt rather than solid rock. This necessitates timbering every foot of the way at a cost of more than $100 per linear foot. At the east portal solid rock was found after the first few feet and enabled the contractors to speed up the work materially.

Workers Camp at Terminals.

The men are comfortably housed in camps at each end of the tunnel where stocks of provisions sufficient for three months are at hand. Each camp has a medical dispensary and hospital with a doctor and nurse in constant attendance. Fatalities, however, have been almost nil, but one death resulting from accident during the year and a half the work has been in progress.

WOMAN, 82, ASKS SOLDIER'S PENSION

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 27.—Mrs. Peter Johnson, 82 years old, who declares she masqueraded as a man and served with the Union army in the Civil war, taking part in the battles of Antietam, Gettysburg and Richmond, has started the Red Cross on an investigation in an effort to prove her claim and get her a soldier's pension.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Templeton, Mass. She says she was let an orphan when she was 9 years old, and subsequently was adopted by a family named Hill that had one son, whom she regarded as a brother. The son enlisted when he was 15 years old at the outbreak of the Civil war.

Mrs. Johnson says when her request to go along with him was denied she stole away in the night and in a flimsy masquerade joined a Fitchburg regiment. Her sex was discovered, she relates, but so earnestly did she plead with the commander of the regiment that he conspired to get her into the army as a private. Dressed in male attire, she says her sex was unknown to all but the colonel.

Eighteen Months at Front.

Mrs. Johnson says she was sent to the front with the rest of the troops and served on the firing line for nearly eighteen months, taking part in many battles, but, fortunately, escaping any injury that brought about discovery.

Not content with her service as a soldier, Mrs. Johnson says that after the war she made her way to Montreal and still masquerading as a man, signed on a ship as a seaman and for five years followed the sea. Then she returned to the United States, resumed female attire, and became a domestic with a family in North Orange. It was while there that she married.

Red Cross officials are convinced of the veracity of the woman's story and are seeking to trace records of the Civil war which will substantiate her claim.

Would Be Awarded Pension.

The adjutant general has found there was a man named Joseph Saul, whose record shows he gave his residence at Templeton when he enlisted. No trace of Saul has been found since the year after the war, and the army description tallies with that of Mrs. Johnson in many particulars.

Mrs. Johnson has told the Red Cross she enlisted under the name of Saul Hill in the Fifty-third Massachusetts Infantry, but search of the regimental records has not brought verification of this detail. Both Mrs. Johnson and her husband, who is a former railroad man, are now at the Home farm in Worcester. Red Cross officials say if the woman's claim can be proven she will be compensated the same as any other veteran.

Says Loaded Gun Scared Rats Away

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Arrested on the complaint of her landlady for leaving a loaded revolver on her dresser, Mrs. Rosella Payne, 47 years old, told a magistrate that she kept the gun to frighten rats.

She said she left the loaded revolver in the open with a bit of cheese before the muzzle. When the rats came to take the cheese, she said, they would notice the revolver, get scared and run away. She added that she believed the rats communicated the fact she had the revolver to other rats. That kept just so many more rats from entering her place she said.

The magistrate held Mrs. Payne in $500 bail.

New Money Deal Is Alleged In Teapot Dome Case

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 27.—Former Secretary of the Interior, Albert B. Fall and his son-in-law, W. E. Everhart, received $140,500 in Liberty bonds from the Continental Trading company of Canada, a Sinclair corporation, counsel for

The affidavit, filed before Judge T. Blake Kennedy in federal district court by Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, government counsel, asks that the government's suit against Harry F. Sinclair, brought in an attempt to break the Teapot Dome oil leases, be postponed until investigators can gather further details of the bond transaction. Henry Smith Osler, former president of the Continental Trading company, now reformed, is reported to be on his way to Toronto from Cairo, Egypt. Osler, it is alleged by the government, is the man through whom the bond transaction was made.

FIND FOLDING SAP, GAS GUN ON PRISONER

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—In the person of Elmer Lowes, who said he was a laborer, the police manifested little, if any, interest.

But over the arsenal wherewith Patrolman Mahoney charges he found Lowes equipped, there is no detective in police headquarters who is not consumed with official curiosity.

Mr. Lowes, whose debut into police circles was made when Patrolman Mahoney arrested him in a hallway, brought with him to the lineup of two of the strangest weapons detectives say they have ever seen.

“Apparently Dead.”
The one—a thing aluminum pistol about eight inches long, three-eighths of an inch bore and equipped with a rubber handle—shoots a thin, blue paper covered shell about an inch and a half in length and inscribed in German “Schmidt.” Court interpreters say that means “apparently dead.” And the police add that this shell is a “gas shell” whose fumes render its victim temporarily unconscious.

Folding Blackjack.
The other weapon police say they found on Lowes is a metal telescope implement about seven inches long that might pass for a small flashlight. When one flips it in the air, from the handle spring two sections of heavy metal springs, topped by a small nob of lead. The result is eighteen inches of what is commonly known as a “blackjack.”

Laconic Epic of Mexican Justice Seen In Despatch

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 27.—A laconic epic of justice in old Mexico is contained in the following translation of a Mexico City dispatch furnished by a Spanish language newspaper here:

“Protasio Rosado, rebel leader, paid with his life before a firing squad for his assault on the oil field in ‘Chopo.’ Five Americans lost their lives. The execution of Rosado was witnessed by hundreds of people and the body was exposed for 24 hours for witnesses to see that he had been shot.”

Seek Arrest of Noted Sculptor
for Model Smash

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 27.—The south has found out what an artistic temperament really means.

Gutson Borglum, his enemies said today, gave a very thorough and destructive exhibition of what an artist can do when in a rage.

The world famous sculptor is sought on a warrant charging malicious mischief, following destruction of a huge master model of the Stone Mountain memorial to soldiers and sailors of the Confederate army.

His chief assistant, Jess Tucker, who superintended the actual carving on the sheer side of Stone Mountain for the past three years, is wanted on a similar charge. Borglum who was dismissed from his contract by the executive committee of the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association yesterday, went to his studio on the mountain secretly during the night and destroyed all the models with an axe. An injunction had been secured barring Borglum and his men from the mountain but the sculptor got there before the papers were served.

When officers arrived at the mountain studio they found the place a wreck.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Seventy out of every 10,000 married persons are divorced every year now in the United States, the census bureau revealed in an official report on marriage and divorce, based on four nation-wide investigations covering the 52-year period from 1870 to 1922.

The number of divorces in 1922 was 330 to every 100,000 married persons, according to complete returns from all states. This was an increase of 400 per cent over 1870, when only 81 divorces to every 100,000 married persons were recorded.

Divorces in 1922 numbered 148,815 compared with 1,129,045 marriages. The wife applied for the divorce in two cases out of three and the ratio has changed but little in the 52 years the figures showed.

PINCHOT HITS $150,000.000 LIQUOR RING

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 27.—Philadelphia is a principal center of the United States for the manufacture of illegal drink from denatured alcohol.

In two years the production of specially denatured alcohol in Philadelphia increased from 800,000 gallons to more than 5,000,000 gallons.

Complete denatured alcohol increased in 1924 by more than 7,500,000 gallons.

These and other statements are made by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

From another source the writer learns that profits gathered by the Pennsylvania bootleg ring in 1924 is estimated conservatively at $150,000,000.

To stop flow of bootleg through Pennsylvania and to other states Governor Pinchot has submitted to the legislature a bill establishing a permanent board which would give the state complete control of the manufacture, sale and inspection of denatured alcohol.

Claims Facts Proved.

"I have complete corroboration of all my statements," Governor Pinchot told the writer. "These facts were collected by special investigators, assisted by the state police, working under the direction of the department of justice. The work was paid for with funds raised by the W. C. T. U. for law enforcement after I had failed to get an appropriation for the work from the previous legislature."

Here are some of the facts submitted to the legislature by Pinchot:

"Manufacturers" withdrew in ten months last year enough specially denatured alcohol to make toilet water, hair tonic and tobacco sprays for the whole world.

Nine permittees during that time say they used 185,000 gallons for tobacco sprays. This was enough to treat twice over the whole tobacco production of the United States in 1924 and half the production of the entire world.

"Without exception the big violators whose permits were revoked have had them restored."

Pittsburgh is a center for illegal beer.

Out of about 100 breweries operating in Pennsylvania, 60 were caught in law violations in 1924, and this notwithstanding that law officers are without authority to inspect breweries during two-thirds of each 24 hours. But only nine breweries were padlocked or permanently enjoined from business by the United States courts.

Here is the description Governor Pinchot gives of the method of operations:

"In the first Pennsylvania district there are 17 distilleries, denaturers, and bonded dealers authorized under federal permit to sell denatured alcohol. They can sell specially denatured alcohol only to manufacturers holding federal permits. Such manufacturers authorized to make toilet waters, hair tonics and tobacco sprays by the use of specially denatured alcohol numbered 151 in Philadelphia on November 30, 1924.

Resell Illicit Liquor

"Having withdrawn a consignment of specially denatured alcohol and having ostensibly but not in fact manufactured it into toilet waters, hair tonics, or tobacco sprays, the crooked manufacturer proceeds to resell it to a so-called 'cover house,' of which there are 74 known to be used by the Philadelphia manufacturers.

"The cover house is paid a commission for the use of its name in concealing the delivery of the unmanufactured alcohol from the supposed manufacturer to the distiller and the bootlegger. This commission is usually five per cent."

"Of the 151 manufacturers of toilet waters, hair tonic and tobacco sprays, nearly every one does his supposed manufacturing in a single small room or small building, utterly inadequate in size and equipment for the business alleged to be conducted in it. The premises of the cover houses are similarly inadequate for the business they are alleged to do."

"Of these 151 manufacturers, 128 were found by state officials to be engaged in violations of law or in crooked practices to cover such violations. Of the 128 only 21 had filed incorporation papers in this state, and 57 were doing business in contravention of the state law which requires the true owners of a concern to register their names in Harrisburg."

"None of these concerns keeps regular books, and most keep practically none at all. Probably 90 per cent of them could gather up their entire manufacturing and office equipment in a small delivery wagon and leave for parts unknown, as did one of the nine largest cover houses when state officers made and appointment late in the afternoon to see the proprietor the next morning."

"Of the 77 permit manufacturers in Philadelphia which withdrew over 1,000,000 gallons of specially denatured alcohol during the first ten months of 1924 and sold to the 74 cover houses already mentioned, 53 were cited during the year just past for violations of law, 34 were doing business under assumed names without registering their true owners, and 54 had no rating in the latest book of a leading commercial agency."

"Out of 130 manufacturers in the state Philadelphia district cited before the federal prohibition authorities during 11 months of 1924 for violation of law, and to show cause why their permits should not be revoked, 121 held permits to make toilet waters and hair tonics. On December 1, so far as records available to me in Philadelphia disclose, only 19 permits had been permanently revoked, of which 17 made no defense, two agreed to surrender their permits, and all were minor offenders."

"One of the most powerful helps for breweries caught in violation is the law's delay. The Ashland Brewery, for example, was first caught

Three Brothers of Trapped Man Ask Estate Rule

MUNFORDSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 27.—Three brothers of Floyd Collins, the man the nation vainly sought to rescue from his cavern tomb, are seeking to take his estate from the father's hands. Their petitions were heard in court here yesterday.

The brothers, Homer, Andy and Marshall, assert Lee Collins, the father, is mentally incapable of managing the estate due to age and grief over his sons' death. Half share in Crystal cave, which Collins discovered, comprises the estate. The father owns the other half share.

It was stated the suit, if won, probably would break an option on the father's half share which Johnnie Gerald holds.

Gerald was one of the early leaders in the 17-day battle to rescue Collins from the narrow crawlway where he was trapped by a falling boulder after finding a new cavern.

BIG SUIT AGAINST KEARNS DISMISSED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—The $300,000 damage suit brought against Jack Kearns by Mrs. Mary C. Tenney in which she accused the fight manager of assault, was dismissed by a jury in superior court here yesterday.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty after 30 minutes' deliberation—completely exonerating Kearns of the accusations, and ordering the civil suit thrown out of court.

Mrs. Tenney, a former screen actress, claimed Kearns drugged and attacked her in a Hollywood apartment nearly a year ago. She demanded $200,000 personal damages in civil proceedings instigated after the district attorney's office refused to prosecute Kearns on the strength of her story.

Gas Price Boost Report Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Senate Thursday called upon President Coolidge to make public the report of the federal trade commission on its investigation into gasoline prices.

A resolution by Senator Trammell, Florida, Democrat, was modified to make the request and adopted without a record vote.

The report has just been sent by the president to the department of justice where prosecutions already have been brought.

El Toro Items

EL TORO, Feb. 27.—El Toro girls and boys enjoyed a party, celebrating Miss Beverly Bennett's eight birthday anniversary. Games were played in the yard until the gift opening, when Mrs. Bennett invited the children to the house. Many gifts were brought by the guests. Ice cream, cake and popcorn balls were served in the dining room, where a yellow and white color scheme prevailed. Mesdames Helen Bennett, T. F. McDonald, Julia Squires and Roy Silkwood of Santa Ana, grandmothers and aunts of the young hostess assisted in making the day a memorable one for Beverly. The guest list for the occasion included Junior Riehl, Homer and Mabel Hannaford from Tustin; Thea and Lloyd Trickey, of Irvine; Grace and Rose Etcheverria, Mary and Marcelina Etchezarar, Albert and Henry Boynton, Billie Drews, Cary and Catherine Gray, Harold Stevens, Mary Thomas, and Franklin Pierce, Ida and Grace Swartz, Nelda and Bobbie Arnold, Louise Moulton, Irene Whisler, Howard, Arnetta and Myrtle Stowe, Grace and Harry Trapp, Billie, Joe and Jimmie Osterman, Florence Wilson, Helen and Evelyn Bennett.

At the last meeting of the El Toro farm center, work for 1925 was outlined and the following committees appointed: Fair, W. M. Gray, Mrs. H. W. Swartz, George Osterman; rodent control, Harvey Swartz; Etcheverria, Bennie Osterman; walnut and citrus pest control, Harvey Bennett; grain department field day in May, John Osterman, Milo Stevens, Walter Tait; electricity in El Toro, Walter Cornelius, John Osterman. A vineyard committee will be appointed at the next meeting. Mr. Larson from the bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture, gave an informal lecture on the weevils which infest black eye beans, giving methods by which they may be exterminated. The center went on record as endorsing those legislative measures which the state and national farm bureaus are backing. A social hour was enjoyed after the business session.

T. L. Nichols and George Osterman spent the week end in San Diego.

W. A. Cornelius is enjoying a rest from his business duties in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stowe and family motored to Del Mar early in the week, taking Mr. Stowe's parents to their home in the southern town.

violating the law by the state police on March 15, 1923. Proceedings are still pending. The Eagle Brewery was caught first on July 31, 1923, and has been caught five times since. Proceedings to close it are still pending.

"Of the breweries caught by the state police in 1924, 15 were operating under a federal permit, while one was actually caught producing strong beer after it had been seized and was actually in the custody of the United States marshal."

PRISON BOARD PRESIDENT TO GIVE TESTIMONY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Protests voiced in San Bernardino county against the parole of Fred E. Alford, former city manager of the city of Ontario who was sent to San Quentin for embezzlement, are the outcroppings of "petty personal politics," President Van Smith, of the state prison board, believes. "I think the truth of this parole is being kept from the public, and if the San Bernardino county grand jury has subpoenaed the board, as I am informed it has done, the only reason I or any member of the board should explain to the grand jury our action in this case would be to put an end to its by-product of malicious rumor," Smith said. "I or some member of the board, if convenient and necessary, probably will respond to the grand jury's invitation."

"The county district attorney," Van Smith continued, "and all other officials interested have the official records of what the board did. Our action was unanimous, taken after due consideration and was more severe than Superior Judge Mahan, the trial judge, wished."

"We treated this man just as we have treated or would treat scores of first offenders. We have nothing to explain, nothing for which we feel the need of apology. We acted in full compliance with the law."

"The board's action is not reviewable by a court or grand jury. The board, nor any of its members, need not submit to a subpoena. We can stand on our constitutional rights. We certainly shall not join in an excursion to San Bernardino county as a board to satisfy the whims of politicians."

"I have been accused of bribe taking and of other things in connection with this case," Van Smith said, "and some of these letters threatening me I probably will turn over to the federal district attorney for his action. All of the letters betrayed a woful misunderstanding and misinterpretation of the case."

SANCTION PLAN TO DEMOTE SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Republican organization committee of the Senate—technically known as the committee on nominations—Thursday sanctioned the plan of ousting Senators La Follette, Brookhart, Ladd and Frazier from the party group in the coming congress.

The committee practically completed its committee roster, demoting Senator La Follette, a presidential candidate opposed to Mr. Coolidge from chairmanship of the committee on manufactures and his sympathizer, Senator Ladd, of North Dakota, Republican, from the chairmanship of the committee on public lands.

FARM RELIEF BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Haugen farm relief bill, as modified by the Dickinson amendment, was passed Thursday by the house by a vote of 284 to 95.

The Dickinson amendment eliminated from the bill federal control and supervision of co-operative marketing associations as recommended by President Coolidge's agricultural commission.

It provides for a federal co-operative marketing board and a federal co-operative advisory council which may extend federal aid to co-operative associations.

New Airplanes for California Forces Sought

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—As the result of a report made to the adjutant general's office by Major C. C. Moseley, commanding officer and instructor of the national guard air service, Adjutant General E. E. Mittelstaedt announced that he will leave for Washington Saturday to ask for three new planes for use by the California national guard.

In his report on the condition of airplanes assigned the California national guard by the war department, Major Moseley stated that the planes were out of date and not practical for modern use. He did not state that the planes were unsafe.

Of the eight planes initially assigned the California guard, only two have been delivered and Moseley recommends that the others not be sent out, but that the war department furnish three new planes of the Douglas X-O type.

The planes now used are practical enough for their intended purpose but are not built so as to permit the aviators to carry parachutes, machine guns or cameras and have a cruising radius of but 150 miles, the report sets forth.

The planes were built in 1917 and are out of date for practical training purposes, Moseley states and should be replaced by the more modern type of aircraft.

OPEN WAY FOR UNION DEPOT AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 27.—After nearly a year of effort, assurance has been received from Southern Pacific officials that relocation of the old Southern Pacific grade, that has been a landmark here for more than a quarter of a century, will be accomplished. Cost will be $15,000.

Removal of the grade opens the way for building of a union depot for both the Southern Pacific and the Pacific Electric lines, and reports are to the effect that a handsome, fireproof building for both freight and passenger use, will be constructed.

The information came in a letter addressed to Lew H. Wallace, who has been one of the most persistent workers in the matter. T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific, writes as follows:

"Supplementing my letter to you February 12, I am glad to advise you that we have secured the appropriation and are now in a position to proceed with reduction of grade at Newport Beach, which involves an expenditure of approximately $15,000 to this company. I know that you will be pleased to learn this."

Mr. Wallace at once answered Mr. Williams, thanking him for his personal attention to the matter on behalf of himself and the citizens of the community for "the encouragement that you have given to us in the development of a larger and better city."

The old Southern Pacific grade into old Newport was originally built by the McFadden interests and was for the purpose of running trains out on old Newport pier for the unloading of ships. Last year the city bought the pier and a portion of the grade, retaining that portion. The grade was removed to Twenty-third street. The Southern Pacific will now lower it from that street to beyond Thirtieth street, while the plan is to erect a depot just beyond Twenty-second street, or between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets.

DISCUSS PLAN FOR ROAD CELEBRATION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—A meeting of representatives of the chamber of commerce of this city and the chamber of commerce of Newport Beach was scheduled to be held at Newport Beach today to arrange plans for a joint celebration between the two cities, for the opening of the coast highway.

C. P. Patton, J. A. Armitage, and T. B. Talbert were the representatives of the local chamber of commerce who planned on attending the meeting.

March 21 has been set as a tentative date for the celebration. The highway will be opened to the public March 20, according to officials in charge of the bridge construction work at the mouth of the Santa Ana river. The cement work on the bridge was completed a few days ago. Finishing touches are now being made on the bridge. Painting of the steel work and seasoning of the cement are holding up the opening of the highway. Plans as outlined here recently by J. A. Armitage, secretary of the chamber of commerce, include a band concert, with a formal opening at a point on the road where a ribbon may be placed across the road and delegations from the two cities meet. Rumors of a beauty contest to select a queen for the festivities of the day have been heard.

Accessories Are Stolen at Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—Automobile accessory thieves were active in this city Wednesday evening, according to a report on file at the police station.

Carl King of Thirteenth street reported the loss of a spare tire, all of his automobile tools but the pump, a spotlight, a tail-light and a horn from his machine. The car was parked before the home of a friend at 407 Ninth street. Although the theft occurred during the first week of December, it was only reported yesterday morning. Hersey asked the police here to keep a sharp watch for the missing articles.

Establish 10-Mile School Zone Limit

ANAHEIM, Feb. 27.—A 10-mile speed limit has been placed in all school zones in Anaheim, it was announced today by Chief of Police Charles Nichols. Direction and distance signs will be placed throughout the city. New uniforms have been issued to all members of the police force and stars and badges are to be supplied.

Steal Watch Left In Church at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—J. L. Cox went to church and lost his watch. Cox is a carpenter working on the addition to the Baptist church. He laid his coat containing the watch on the addition to the Baptist church while working, and when he returned the watch was gone. Police are looking for the missing timepiece.

Recall Petitions Are Taken from House to House

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—Recall petitions which were circulated in Huntington Beach today were reported to be gaining signatures steadily. The members of the Taxpayers and Voters league, failing to secure signatures while their petitions were at the offices of Judge C. W. Warner, have started a house-to-house campaign. It is understood that several persons, including C. W. Warner, Amos Huston, Mrs. D. H. Westmoreland and Ross Brown, are circulating the petitions.

The petitions ask for recall of James Macklin, W. R. Wharton, Richard Drew and L. R. Ridenour, city trustees. Charges of "extravagance and wastefulness" as well as "incompetency" are made in the headings of the petitions. Among others who are directly connected with the recall movement are Earl Crawford, William Adair and W. T. Newland.

CROWD GREET THE SPANS AT BEACH SCHOOL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—Before a packed house, the glee clubs of the Huntington Beach high school last night staged what was claimed by those who saw it to have been the best production of its kind ever shown here.

Filled with many comical situations, the "Spring Madness" kept the audience in a state of laughter. The plot of the opera centered about the characters of four young officers, led by Fred Purtsch as Baron Rudi, and Fred White, Frances Purtsch, David Russell and Earl Crockett; the Prince Aladar, Clyde Seltzer; and the Princess Bozena, Miss Pauline Brewster.

The young officers courting a spring maid known as Annamir, could not win her. Baron Rudi, in a letter written to Prince Aladar, a noted heart-breaker, tells of the spring girl. He comes to win her. Annamir leaves and the Princess Bozena, overhearing a talk between the officers and the prince, decides to take the part of the spring girl and teach the "breaker of hearts" a lesson.

Wayne Gilchrist, in the role of Prince Nepomuk, provided plenty of amusement in a comical characterization. Further trouble arose when he took the part of an aunt to chaperone the princess on a trip with the heart-breaking prince.

Prominent players in the production were Miss Helen Young, Annamir; Fred Rowley, Thelma McKinney, Roger Berdelman, Merle Moore, S. J. Crane and Victor Terry, while Ethel Langston, Alleen Rowley, Lynette Robb, Marie Colburn, Susan Russell, Pearl Dowdy, and Louise Wardlow were the spring girls.

Mrs. Ruth Meyer Harlow, musical instructor at the high school, directed the play.

VIEW FULLERTON AS FACTORY SITE

FULLERTON, Feb. 27.—Possibility of Fullerton being chosen as the site of a factory which the Doris Motor company of St. Louis propose to locate in Southern California was disclosed yesterday when the local industrial site was visited by three executives of the company.

W. R. Colcord, president of the company, was accompanied by his associates, W. H. Moore and A. C. Behringer, and an inspection of Fullerton's site was made in company with George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Colcord said that his company, which has been making a high-priced automobile, expects to extend its business to include bus manufacturing, and that it is felt that Southern California is the logical place for such enterprise.

Saves Drinking Device; Forgets $100 Bond Money

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 27.—Someone in California, with a tilted bottle strapped in the top of his touring car and just over his head, in order that he may take a drink without removing his hands from the steering wheel, rides Darius Nettleton of Long Beach, while in Seal Beach the court holds the sack containing $100 of his money. When court was convened yesterday, at considerable inconvenience to Recorder C. H. Morrison, who has been ill, Nettleton failed to appear. It has not yet been decided whether to order pursuit. Nettleton's companion, A. O. Anderson, also of Long Beach, who was held with him on charges of possession of liquor, was discharged yesterday on grounds of insufficient evidence. Anderson claimed that he had just sold the car to Nettleton, and that the ingenious self-serving device belonged to Nettleton.

Capt. B. E. Brink and J. E. Ord, proprietors of Captain's Inn, at the Anaheim bridge, and A. J. Odern, an employee, will be up for hearing on a liquor selling charge today. They were arrested during a recent police raid and held under $300 bail each.

FLAGPOLE WILL BE PLACED IN STREET AGAIN

ANAHEIM, Feb. 27.—A flagpole and Old Glory, center of a controversy for months in Anaheim during the long, bitter Ku Klux Klan fight, will again figure in the history of the city.

The flagpole, an Anaheim landmark, which was given to the city with the request that it always stand at the intersection of the two main thoroughfares, is to be replaced, after standing in the city park for more than six months, since it was mysteriously removed from the streets just before dawn on a morning when the Klan fight was first starting in Anaheim.

It was later announced by the Klan administration that the flagpole, which was a landmark, had been removed because it prevented motorists from seeing a traffic officer who sometimes directed traffic at that corner. Two petitions, signed by more than 1000 citizens and presented to the council, failed to win a request to restore the flagpole to its original place, and instead it was placed in the city park.

The flagpole was given to the city by W. E. Alexander, prominent local citizen, during the World war, when Anaheim was branded by some other Southern cities as a German community.

The flag was placed in the center of the city as a symbol of the patriotism of its inhabitants, and the flagpole thereafter became a landmark and direction guide by which motorists from all parts of the Southland were aided in traveling on the state highway.

Now the flagpole is to be restored and Old Glory placed at the top of the mast each morning at sunrise and lowered daily at sunset. Such order has been made by the city council, it is understood, and the ceremony of replacing the flagpole will be the occasion for a patriotic celebration, which probably will be conducted under auspices of the American Legion. All the school children of the city will be in the parade, and a salute to Old Glory, and talk by local citizens.

New Offers of Land Are Made To University

FULLERTON, Feb. 27.—To aid Fullerton's fight for the Southern Branch of the University of California, two new land offers were telegraphed yesterday to the board of regents of the university.

An offer of 40 acres of land in Santiago canyon, near Madame Modjeska's home, for recreational purposes came from the Orange county supervisors, and an offer of five acres of land on the Balboa Newport waterfront for aquatic purposes was made by the Balboa Newport community.

The beach offer is additional to the 100-foot frontage previously offered by that community and both offers are in addition to the 1000 acres of the Bastanchury ranch already offered by Fullerton.

PREPARE FOR SUMMER RUSH IN BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—Recreation centers here were today starting to prepare for summer pleasure seekers. General repair work is under way at the plunge. The entire inside of the building is being repainted and is being put in condition for the summer crowds. The exterior also is to be repainted.

The plunge has been closed this week, but will open this evening. It is expected that general work on the band stand will be made, by the city, in preparation for Sunday band concerts. The city municipal playgrounds on the sand and east of the pier have been fitted up with two new slides, several teeter boards and swings.

Business men of the town are also talking of summer pleasures. Baseball teams for the purpose of inter-bank games between the forces of the three local banks have been suggested by C. N. Whitman, of the Security Trust and Savings bank.

Announcement that a bowling alley was expected to be established here in the near future, possibly in the pavilion near the pier, has aroused the interest of the bankers and other business men. According to Whitman, steps will be taken to form a bankers' bowling league if the alley is installed. Talk was also rife here today about the formation of a shooting team to compete with teams from the other banks at the local shooting gallery.

SCHOOL BILL STIRS HARBOR IN OPPOSITION

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 27.—Opposition not only to the consolidation of elementary school districts, but to being a part of another union high school district, rapidly crystallized in the harbor district today, when comments, resolutions and discussions by many civic organizations developed over the bill introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman S. C. Hartman, amending section 1576 of the political code.

This bill provides that every incorporated city, except cities of the sixth class, shall constitute a separate school district, which shall be governed by a board of trustees of said city; provided, except in cities of the sixth class, the board of supervisors of the county may annex thereto for school purposes only, the remainder or any part of the remainder of the district or districts for which such city or incorporated town was organized, whenever a majority of the heads of families residing therein shall petition for such annexation.

The board of trustees of the city of Newport Beach, the Costa Mesa chamber of commerce, the Costa Mesa P. T. A. and other organizations have taken steps to see what can be done to prevent the passage of the bill. It was learned today that neither the Santa Ana school authorities nor Santa Ana interests had anything to do with the bill, and were not seeking to stir the opposition of outlying districts, as the bill is particularly directed against such districts as Paulmarino, Costa Mesa and Newport Beach.

More than two years ago the harbor district voted by a small vote of 17 or 18 to join the Santa Ana union high school district, which meant that it would be impossible for this section to have a high school unit of its own, as it requires three years to secede from a union high school district. It is believed that a plan will be presented for taking this step, which the county high school officials are said to approve. It is claimed that a junior high school district can be readily established in that time.

Jokers Take Car; Man Calls Police

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 27.—While Frank Naylor, proprietor of a local shoe-shining stand, was shining a customer's shoes Wednesday evening, another person drove his automobile away from in front of his place of business. The car, a light coupe, was parked not more than 50 feet from the open door of the shoe-shining stand. Naylor did not miss the machine until he started home. He immediately called the police. Five minutes after the call had been placed, the car was recovered. Naylor found it in the next block. Some of his friends had driven it away as a joke.

FRATERNAL NEWS

Masons

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 27.—There are a total of 16,538 Masonic lodges in the United States, making an average of 327 for each state, with a total membership of 2,990,271, according to a very comprehensive and interesting report prepared by J. Edward Allen, of Warrenton, N. C., for the Masonic grand lodge of North Carolina. The following figures are given: 8,850 Royal Arch chapters, with a membership of 832,710; 1,289 councils, Royal and Select Masters, with a membership of 299,046; and 1,665 commanderies, Knights Templar, with a membership of 433,367.

In the Scottish Rite, the membership is divided as follows: 253 Lodges of Perfection, 14, having 519,382 members; 203 Chapters of Rose Croix, 18, having 483,876 members; and 161 consistories, 32, having 468,560 members.

The Eastern Star has a total of 10,690 chapters, with a membership of 1,308,807, and there are 143 temples of the Mystic Shrine, with 550,912 members.

Every state has at least one of each of the above named organizations, with the exception of Virginia and West Virginia, which do not have a council of Royal and Select Masters, and Delaware does not have a Shrine temple.

Daughters of Veterans

A delightful Colonial party was enjoyed by some 50 members of the Daughters of Veterans who gathered at the home of Mrs. Sarah Jones recently. Some of the jewelry worn by the daughters dated back 100 years or more. A number of guessing contents were enjoyed.

Delicious home made cake, sandwiches and tea were served by the following committee: Maxine Wilson, Mary Finch, Stella Anderson, Sarah Jones, Grace Grigsby, Lucy Barrows and Margaret Quick.

M. W. A. No. 7576

Ten teams of uniformed Foresters will be in Santa Ana during the state camp meeting here in May. State Deputy Ben L. Goodheart of Los Angeles announced at the session of Oak Camp No. 7576, Modern Woodmen of America, in the M. W. A. hall February 24. The winning team in the drills which are being arranged will be given a free trip to Milwaukee in June.

Torosa Rebekah

Dignitaries of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah organizations, including Grand Master Lloyd Cohen, Stockton, grand master, and Marie C. Steinman, Pasadena, president of the Rebekah assembly, were entertained at the meeting of Torosa lodge in the I. O. O. F. temple here Wednesday night.

Included on the program were speeches by the prominent members of the two orders, musical numbers, readings and dances.

Among those in attendance were 25 members of the Past Noble Grand's association of Pasadena lodge No. 121, Pasadena. Mrs. Steinman is a member of this lodge.

The banquet room, where a sumptuous dinner was served preceding the meeting, was beautifully decorated. The guests were seated at a table in the center of the room.

A list of leading Rebekahs and Odd Fellows present at the gathering is as follows: Lloyd Cohen, Stockton, grand master of Odd Fellows; Mrs. Marie C. Steinman, Pasadena, president, Rebekah assembly; C. A. Palmer, Orange, grand warden; Mrs. Nellie Herbold, trustee, assembly; Mrs. Fanny M. Lacy, past president, assembly; Miss Byrde Cohen, trustee, assembly; Mrs. Anna Funk, inside guardian, assembly; Mrs. Margaret Ingram, chaplain, assembly; Mrs. Amelia Prather, marshal, assembly; Mrs. Lulu Nankervis, district deputy president of district No. 50; Mrs. Alice Ogg, district deputy president, district No. 55; R. Bam-borough, district grand patriarch; Robert Funk, lieutenant colonel of canton, Pomona; Henry Cook, master of canton; George Prather, lieutenant colonel of canton; George Myrick, captain of canton.

Many beautiful gifts were received by the visitors. They were distributed by Marion and Aileen Adams and Eleanore Lacy.

The program, which was rendered following the lodge session, follows: Address of welcome, Mrs. Laura Keseman, noble grand of Torosa lodge; address, Lloyd Cohen; reading, Master Thomas Lacy; address, Mrs. Marie C. Steinman; colonial dance, Miss Carrie Kimball, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mayme Haveres; vocal solo, Mrs. Mary Palmer; reading, Miss Dolly Dennis; presentation of gifts to Mrs. Steinman by Miss Norma Wingard; warden of Torosa; bass solo, H. Zalman Johnson; vocal duet, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Palmer, accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Van T. Dayton; reading, Eleanore Young Elliott.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Fanny M. Lacy.

Knights of Pythias

Purchase of a lot at 1243 West Fourth street by Santa Ana lodge, Knights of Pythias, was announced today by Edward W. Cochems, chancellor commander. The property will serve as the site for the proposed Pythian temple.

Cochems announced that steps will be taken immediately to form a building association.

The Knight rank of the order will be conferred at the session of Santa Ana lodge next Wednesday evening. A team from Long Beach will officiate.

The Esquire rank was conferred at the session Wednesday evening. Several applications for membership were received.

Loyal Order of Moose 32

An oyster stew will follow the program of entertainment and dancing in Moose hall, March 11, it was announced today by Dr. Louis J. Elwood, dictator of Santa Ana lodge, Loyal Order of Moose.

An entertaining program with dancing and refreshments was enjoyed by members of the Moose lodge, the Women of Mooseheart legion and their friends in Moose hall last evening. A number of out-of-town members were present at the gathering.

Dr. Elwood paid a compliment today to the Women of Mooseheart legion, stating that it is because of their untiring efforts that the Moose socials are such a success.

S. A. Pyramid of Sciots

One hundred Sciots and their ladies were present at the box supper and dance held in El Camino hall Wednesday evening by Santa Ana pyramid. The Jennings orchestra furnished the music for the dancing.

It is planned to hold the socials once a month. Plans for the next entertainment will be made at the business session of the pyramid in El Camino hall, March 11.

The committee in charge of last night's affair consisted of Jasper Kaufman, chairman; Ed. Buck, H. C. Collins, George C. Wheeler and Richard Cox. Announcement was made today by W. B. Ashford, publicity chairman, that a number of Santa Ana Sciots will attend the 49'er celebration in Glendale today and tomorrow.

Pythian Sisters

Initiation will be conducted by the Pythian Sisters in the Knights of Pythias hall, 808 1/2 East Fourth street, March 10, it was announced at the session held February 24.

Four officers were filled at the last meeting, as follows: Junior, Mrs. Alice Bachman; manager, Mrs. J. A. Gardner; protector, Mrs. Lucy Wyatt; visiting guard, Mrs. Alice Bartlett.

A number of visiting Pythian Sisters, as well as a number of Knights of Pythias members, were in attendance. A pot luck supper was enjoyed.

Announcement was made that the Pythian Sisters Tea club will meet with Mrs. Alice Bartlett, 1059 West Third street, March 3 at 2 p. m. All members are urged to be present.

W. R. C.

One hundred and eighty veterans and their wives, widows of veterans, members of the W. R. C. and their husbands, were present at the dinner given in their honor by the Women's Relief corps in the G. A. R. hall Wednesday noon. Dinners were sent to those who were unable to come to the hall.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Alice Yount and Mrs. Emma Leiser. The dinner is an annual affair.

The next meeting of the W. R. C. will be in the G. A. R. hall on March 5.

Runaway Youths Held Awaiting Parents' Arrival

Three youths, two from Ocean Park and one from Venice, were on their way to Tustin, to visit a boy whom they said they did not know by name, were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jesse Elliott yesterday afternoon, and are being held here as "runaways." After their arrest they stated they were going to the mythical boy's aunt's house.

After being confined for several minutes, the lads confessed they had run away from home and were on their way to San Diego.

They will be held here pending the arrival of their parents who have been notified of their arrest. The boys are Jack Carson, 16, 2235 Boyce avenue, Venice; Curtis Everett, 16, 601 Marine avenue, Ocean Park, and Edwin Frontenbury, 16, 813 Marine avenue, Ocean Park.

Write That Letter—No Honors at Home for Cook Who Won Prize

Public appreciation of the culinary accomplishments, as evidenced by her capture of a county prize for the best meat recipe, was not shared by her husband, according to Mrs. Emilie Bressel, of Stanton, whose complaint for divorce was on file today in the superior court.

Mrs. Bressel won the county prize in February, 1924. The day of the award she awaited her husband's home-coming with anticipation of his pride in her. But when she met him at the door and started happily to tell him of her success, he cut her short with curses and abuse, she declared.

Justus Bressel, the husband, was found of telling her that she was "too mean to obey him," she said. He told her that he would treat her "lots nicer" if her mother would keep a promise to give her $1,000. Mrs. Bressel got the $1,000 and another $1,000 but her husband treated her even worse, she said. Once he threatened to kill her, and on other occasions he urged her to leave him.

She finally did so and moved a few days ago to the home of her parents near Stanton. The Bressels own nine acres of land. A third of this, the wife claims as her separate property.

The couple married in 1912 and have four children, whose custody is sought by the mother. Attorney Kenneth H. Burns represents Mrs. Bressel.

"FALLING DOWN STAIRS" NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—"Falling down stairs" kills nearly 15,000 people each year. In the Manhattan area of New York alone more than 100 deaths were attributed to falls on stairs. About 80 per cent of these accidents occur during December, January, February, when steps often are covered with ice and snow.

OUR—NEIGHBORS

RIVERSIDE—Chemists are attempting to estimate the value of a new 300-inch well at Norco, from which sulphur water has been pumped for three days by the North Corona Land company, on whose land the well is located. Temperature of the water, which has been raised to within 26 feet of the surface, is 118 degrees Fahrenheit. Providing it contains the proper ingredients, its value as irrigation water for the growing of early vegetables is regarded as great. An unlimited supply of the water is believed available. The well has been drilled 972 feet deep. It is one of nine wells within 300 feet of one another, but is the only one producing warm sulphur water.

POMONA—Made memorable by one of the greatest gatherings of members of the Elks' lodge in Southern California, Pomona's beautiful new $200,000 temple was dedicated in the presence of a notable array of high lodge officials, distinguished citizens from many Southland cities and special delegations.

SANTA MONICA—City commissioners have received official notice of the bequest of $25,000 to the city from the J. E. Miles estate, left for a recreational center. Formal acceptance of the gift is required within six months by the terms of the will. City Attorney Chester L. Coffin will be instructed to draw a formal acceptance for passage by the city council.

PASADENA—Another complete investigation of the activities of forbidden fraternities in Pasadena high school looms as an almost certain possibility as a result of charges made in the Chronicle, a student publication. According to a story in the high school paper, fraternities forbidden by the state law are not only existing in the local institution, but are having an undue influence in the handling of student affairs. Since this open declaration of war against secret organizations has been made by the students themselves, it is expected that the investigation will be thorough and the results are expected to be drastic.

ALHAMBRA—Slot machines which entice the nickels from the pockets of men and boys and which have appeared in growing numbers in Alhambra cafes and other public places recently, will be placed on the black list when a new ordinance goes into effect. The city commissioners have been making a quiet investigation and have determined that the devices, which give gum, candy, or other merchandise in return for the insertion of a nickel and the spinning of the wheel, must go. An ordinance forbidding the operation of the machines has been given first reading.

LONG BEACH—That an organization is being formed which has as its professed objects better pay, better working conditions and better employment in municipal service, is admitted by L. F. Towner, a city hall employee, and one of the organizers. It has not been decided, he said, whether the police will be asked to join.

NOT A FAIR PROPOSITION

The Register's sympathies are entirely with the representatives of the elementary school districts of Newport Beach, Costa Mesa, Paulmarino, Greenville, Diamond and Delhi in their protest against the provisions of Senate Bill No. 659. That bill proposes machinery whereby an election could be held for consideration of the consolidation of all the elementary school districts that comprise a high school district into one elementary school district.

The objectionable feature to the bill from the standpoint of the smaller districts is that they could be forced into the consolidation against their wishes. Under the proposal Santa Ana by a heavy vote could carry the election, though the outside districts might vote solidly against the plan.

The plan is objectionable because it would take away from each district the right of its individual decision.

True, the proposed measure would give the outside districts a majority representation in the management of the schools of the new district, for the bill proposes that no more than two members of the board of school trustees shall come from a single district. But that evidently would hold good only for the first election, the selection of trustees being submitted at the same time the question of consolidation is submitted. After that there would no longer be any elementary school districts other than the consolidated district and the trustees could be elected from any place in the district regardless of the old elementary district lines. So, while the control of the management of the school district might be placed in the hands of residents outside the city, the control would not long remain there.

We can see a good many elements wherein a consolidated district would be of distinct advantage to all concerned, but we are not arguing the question of advisability at this time. We are stating positively our belief that the measure is wrong in principle in that it can force a district to come into a financial and school management arrangement against its will. We don't believe that kind of thing is fair.

This we say knowing full well that forced consolidations are looked upon in the California school law as justifiable, feasible and practicable. It was only a few years ago that every elementary district in California against its will was forced into some high school district. This was done on the theory that every elementary school district has the benefit of having a high school located somewhere near it and should therefore help maintain the high school. That is, having finished an elementary district, a pupil went next to a high school maintained by some other district or districts. Granting that this is sound argument as concerning the high school, the argument does not apply to the elementary school districts.

WHY FRANCE WOBLES

France, with finances shaky again and the franc sliding down, is disposed to turn to the old remedy of another foreign loan. It was done last year successfully; why not now? America, of course, will furnish the money. J. P. Morgan & Co., the government thinks, will make no difficulty about making of a new short-term loan again, or floating another bond issue in this country. It is figured that $140,000,000 more will strengthen and stabilize French currency and credit again, for the present.

The French government again faces a budget several billion francs in excess of its estimated revenue, to be balanced presumably as usual by the old process of borrowing. Meanwhile it simply has to borrow to meet large maturing obligations. And it already owes nearly as much as the total estimated wealth of France.

No wonder French private capital is fleeing abroad, as German capital fled before reparation was readjusted and German finances stabilized.

No wonder the French franc slides down, after every attempt to prop it up, when France spends every year more than her income, paying vast sums for armament and refusing to tax her citizens as her war allies have been taxed.

No wonder, either, that there comes a particularly alarming drop in French credit just after France has given the world a strong impression that she has no intention of trying the pay her debt to America and England. No creditor wants to continue throwing good money after bad.

A definite commitment to meeting her foreign obligations, however light the terms proposed and however distant the ultimate settlement, would do more to restore French credit than all this frenzied borrowing to pay domestic debts.

ALL'S IN A NAME

The name "realtor" will probably break into the dictionary sooner or later, in spite of the anguish of many language-lovers who find the word objectionable because intrinsically it does not mean anything.

To the business group that applies the name "realtors" to its members the name signifies "honor and integrity," and by them it is jealously guarded from the unscrupulous misuse of "realty operatives."

It remains difficult for an outsider to understand why a "realtor" is more exalted in ideals and business methods than a mere "realty operative" or dealer or salesman, until the matter is explained to him. The same is true of a lot of other modern business terms. But they may yet "establish themselves in the language," as the literary critics would say.

NO SET FASHIONS IN DRESS

In the bewilderment of the fashion-makers and fashion-followers as to what is correct in dress there is great hope for good taste and beauty.

The all-powerful designers of women's apparel no longer agree among themselves about good style and, what is worse for them, they can't make the public agree. Paris decrees skirts long or short or flowing or narrow and then expects women the world over to adopt the skirt decree. But they don't do it.

A New York dressmaker describes the situation. "Everything is reduced to simplicity," he says. "Formerly there used to be a set fashion. Today each individual tries to wear clothes that show his personality, conforming only in minor points to the style of what is being generally worn. People will no longer fit into a prescribed pattern."

Two more steps are needed in achieving beauty in dress. There are artistic understanding of good lines and color combinations, and, if the dress is to express the personality, beautiful personalities.

In the pressure of modern business, there is nothing so nervous as the dollar.

Disgraced By Good Fortune

Fresno Republican.

Scarcely more than a year ago, the newspapers were filled with account of the spectacular raid of Osborne Wood, son of Major General Leonard Wood, on the New York stock market. He amassed a fortune in a few weeks by particularly well placed trades.

A year has passed and once more Osborne Wood has become a newspaper subject. But now he is not the spectacular stock trader; he is a broken man, wanted in European cities for bad check transactions and unpaid bills.

From a secluded spot in Spain he has issued a statement giving the reason for his downfall. The fortune that followed him in his stock transactions, he thought would always be with him. He turned to the gaming tables, played fast and loose and now has lost, not only all of his money, but his good name as well.

He can teach a lesson to thousands of others, and that is after all, real success is obtained only through right living. No person can lose himself in riotous living for any time and emerge with any self respect. Nor is success a thing of chance. Chance may bring temporary good fortune, but continued effort along right lines alone brings success. Osborne Wood has learned this, but the knowledge comes too late.

Wood had a good name before he obtained wealth. The good fortune that followed him in his stock deals, gave him an opportunity to further that good name and put him on the high road to success. He failed to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities and today he is disgraced before his friends, receiving their sympathy.

Prosperity World-Wide

Long Beach Press-Telegram.

Prosperity, now gaining a strong foothold in the United States, will extend all over the world. This is the prophecy of William Boyce Thompson, New York financier, now visiting in California. For the first time since the World War, conditions have become stabilized sufficiently to permit the work of rehabilitation to go on without restriction. The war paralyzed building and every constructive activity. The world has to "catch up" in these things. Opportunities to do so are just ripening. The United States has gone on with its construction, without the hampers which Europe has had. "But even in this country," says Mr. Thompson, "we have not as yet been able to supply all the building needs, for instance, and owing to the unsettled state of affairs in Europe our industry has not been up to normal; last year was a period of uncertainty which affected all lines of business adversely."

But with the confidence restored by the result of the election last November, this country is ready to go ahead. "And never in our history," says Mr. Thompson, "has the country been so well supplied with capital; bank reports everywhere show the greatest amount of deposits since the United States became a Nation; the rise in sterling in England indicates a revival of prosperity in that country."

The optimistic views expressed by Mr. Thompson are shared by other prominent financiers and men of affairs visiting in California.

Backward Step Opposed

Stockton Independent.

City Manager Ashburner takes a sound public view in his report to the City Council last night in opposition to the Los Angeles movement to have the Legislature return the control of public utility regulation to the cities.

The city manager is well within the range of conservative language when he says such proposed decentralization would set California back more than any other one thing that could be done at this time.

Two objections to the scheme cited, the lack of equipment of cities to cope with the situation and the return of politics in a business relation, should be conclusive.

An even stronger objection pointed out is that in the city competition for industries, hidden concessions would always be a temptation. It is much better that a state body, equipped to do the work, should establish uniform rates in zones where conditions are practically the same.

It was secret railroad rates that led to regulation and the unfairness to industry of secret rates is now universally acknowledged. There would be no end of abuse and ill-feeling if cities should engage in the business of trading rate concessions for industries.

Bledsoe For Governor

Riverside Press.

Judge B. F. Bledsoe is to be candidate for mayor in Los Angeles and will no doubt be elected by a tremendous majority. The Redlands Facts and the San Francisco Chronicle think that this move on the part of Judge Bledsoe means that he is to abandon the bench for the field of politics and that in 1926 he will be the Democratic candidate for governor. Judge Bledsoe is on the federal bench and holds for life, unless he resigns; and it is stated by the Los Angeles papers that he does not intend to resign. That would not seem to give much odor to the suggestion that he will run for governor. It is a long time since the Democrats elected a governor in California but they would come nearer to doing so with Judge Bledsoe as their candidate than any other Democrat in the state that the Press can think of. Moreover he would make a mighty good governor.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

FRACTURES AFTER FORTY

Men who have been active in their college days and continue their interest in games and sports well along through middle age, must be careful of their strenuous life after the bones have set more firmly. While there are always exceptions to the rule, and while in spirit at least a man may be "as old as he feels," his physical activities must be governed by the strength of his bones to withstand sudden starts and stops.

The inevitable jars and jolts that come his way will surely get him sooner or later if he persists in this practice at the expense of his bones. The muscles of an active man, who has engaged daily since his youth in well regulated exercise and kept his health by right living, are practically as strong in middle age as in earlier life. But, although the muscles keep up their strength, the bones do not. They become brittle.

Fractures after forty are more difficult to heal quickly and properly. They slow you up to the extent that you may be unable again to engage in your favorite sport with enthusiasm.

This brittleness of the bones may be properly spoken of in connection with other activities besides sports. Men who do heavy work or engage in activities that require extensive use of the legs must always be careful to realize that sudden bracing or strains and particularly sudden shock from jumps, even if only a short distance, are severe on the legs and are apt to result in a serious fracture.

The value of a man, in any real physical sense, depends on his leg power. It is foolish and dangerous to try "speeding up" beyond the normal power of your age resistance just because you don't want the youngsters to show you up.

Another Secret Hobby Has Been Uncovered

Think While Waiting

Ezra Meeker of Tacoma, old trail-blazer who crossed the continent originally in a covered wagon and recently made the same trip in an airplane, values time.

Dropping into an office the other day and inquiring for a friend, he was asked to wait half an hour.

"Good gracious!" the visitor exclaimed. "I'm 95 years old, and have no half-hours to waste." So he walked out.

And that was admirable, if Mr. Meeker used the half-hour to better advantage. Most men of anywhere near his age spend their time in a sort of stupor, ignoring the fact that time in this life is always short, and with them it should be especially valuable because it is drawing to a close.

Time spent waiting for people, however, need not be wasted. It is thinking, rather than running around, that accomplishes most of the things worth while. If half the time spent waiting for tardy friends and associates were used in constructive thinking instead of futile fuming, this would soon be a changed world.

Worth While Verse

SUCCESS

There are four little letters, oh, son of mine,
And in them deep magic lies;
The magic that lifts from darkest depths
And into the clearest skies.
Four little letters, but if one holds
Them close to his heart and soul,
The heights may be his, though even a star
Be set as his distant goal.
Four little letters and one little word;
A formula, then? Ah yes,
A guide, a compass, a spur, an urge,
That lead to a man's success:
Four little letters, their magic this
That one may not shun nor shrink,
But bend to the task: the letters spell
The might of the world—its "work."

Paving

SAY, I'd like to catch the fellow who invented paving streets. Perhaps you know just how I feel about it. The trouble that it brings you, any other trouble best, and if you have some youngsters, you won't doubt it.

From morning until evening they are digging up the clay, or sending dust a-flying through the air. Just like a bunch of youngsters who will wallow in their play, are men who ply this trade, that seems unfair. They pile their bricks in wallways that will tempt a thief to steal for youngsters, as you know, are wont to climb. "Well, build a house," says Tommy. Then they do it, like as not, and they're busy from the morn to supper time.

When homeward come the youngsters who have helped to pave the street, poor mother knows, right quick, where they've been. There's mud upon their clothing and there's mud upon their feet and of course they drag the bloomers' stuff right in.

Yep, the paving gang is troublesome and yet it's got to be. The drawback is that neither is enslaved. It means a lot of muddiness while going on, but gee, we're glad to use the highway when it's paved.

Rome and Carthage

Waterloo Tribune

The London Daily Chronicle seems to be trying to throw a scare into us. It says that Rome and Carthage in their power of sucking wealth from the rest of the world, were nothing compared to the United States.

The idea is quite far-fetched. We are supposed to take note that Rome fell and because it finally sucked the world dry of goods. But we are not looting the world of its corn, its art and its work-ers. We are, of course, taking a great deal of gold from the world. We have more than half of all the gold.

But why didn't England fall as Rome did when the world looked to her for money. Before the war we owed her $5,000,000,000. Every nation, almost, owed her money—she being the world's banker—and was paying her interest. Every nation helped to make it possible for her to accumulate vast profits from her shipping. It is true that our balance of trade last year was $1,000,000,000. But because our balance was that much evidence is not complete that we have it. Our visitors to Europe left $500,000,000 of the balance there last year. About $400,000,000 was sent to "the old country" by Europeans and others working here. Another $100,000,000, or thereabout, was profit on shipping paid by Americans to maritime nations.

That leaves us about even for last year. And when the world recovers; when nations make money on the billions we have loaned them—$1,200,000,000 in 1924—the balance of trade will not be so much. In a short time we will be back to where we were, by comparison, before the war.

It is fortunate for good Americans that they have a habit of spending or we might fall as old Rome.

FRIDAY

The Fruits of Repentance

Read Lk. 3:7-14. Text: 3-8. Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance.

MEDITATION—True repentance is not a form or ceremony. It is a plain and practical command to each one of us. It involves a turning from sin and the beginning of a life of love and service to one's fellow men; helping the needy, comforting the sorrowful, inspiring the discouraged, bringing others to Christ. These are some of the fruits of repentance. Repentance like a tree is known by its fruits. "When you say 'Lead us not into temptation,' you must in good earnest mean to avoid in your daily conduct those temptations which you have already suffered from. When you say 'Deliver us from evil,' you must mean to struggle against that evil in your heart of which you are conscious and for which you pray to be forgiven. To watch and to pray are surely in our power, and by these means we are sure of getting strength."

PRAYER—God of all strength, look with thy great compassion upon our failures. Bring good out of evil. May the darkness of sin and mists of error be dispelled by thy dwelling spirit. Let it be day time in our lives. Amen.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 17—MRS. BUNNY WANTS A MAGIC KETTLE

Mister Peg Leg, the fairy peddler man, had almost enough money to buy himself a new leg, but not quite.

But nobody cared. He didn't care and the Twins didn't care, and nobody cared, because they were all having a fine time and it was a lot of fun to go around selling things.

One day they came to the place where the Bunneys lived. Nobody was at home but Mrs. Bunney herself and she answered the door.

"How do you do," she said. "You'll have to excuse the way I look. I haven't had time to fix up since I dressed this morning and I know I am a sight."

"What keeps you so busy, Mrs. Bunney?" asked Nancy. "Is it because you have so many in your family to work for?"

"Partly," said Mrs. Bunney setting chairs for her visitors. "But not altogether. The Cottons are here from the other end of the world and I have all my own children, but that isn't the trouble. I like big families."

"Then what is the trouble?" asked Mister Peg Leg kindly.

"Food," said Mrs. Bunney. "I just don't get up a meal they will eat. They just sit down to the table and pick and if I do say it, as I shouldn't, I cook meals fit for a king and they just sit and wiggle their noses."

"Don't they ever get hungry?" asked Nick.

"Not now," sighed Mrs. Bunney. "In the winter they nearly ate the flowers of the tablecloth. But since it's been nice weather it has been the other way. Every day and every day they just come in and snuffle."

"Just leave that to me," said the fairy peddler man. "Come with me, children," said he when they had left.

And where do you suppose he led the Twins?

To Farmer Greenway's sassa-patch garden. Nancy and Nick were very curious as the little peddler man stopped and looked around and then suddenly he began to shake and laugh.

"Just as I thought," said he. (To Be Continued)
